College Writing Basics Thomas E. Tyner, 1993 College Writing Basics Thomas E. Tyner, 1999-09 Focusing on the use of peers as an audience this text aims to allow students to draw upon personal experience then learn to support opinions and draw conclusions from their writings Model essays revision suggestions a progressive skills building approach and opportunities for peer evaluation provide effective writing instruction College Writing Basics Thomas E. Tyner, 2000-01-01 Integrating words sentences and either paragraphs or essays in each chapter this brief text moves students from personal to expository writing as they progress through each of the five levels of the book Research in Basic Writing Martin Jacobi, Michael G. Moran, 1990-02-15 This reference handbook surveys research on the central issue associated with the teaching of unprepared writers Though basic writing has only been recognized as a distinct area of teaching and research since 1975 the existing bibliographic texts already seem limited due to their age or lack of annotation This volume provides current and extensive bibliographic essays and will help to define this new field of study for teachers and researchers Following an introduction that summarizes the origins and significant texts in basic writing the book is divided into three sections Social Science Perspectives Linguistic Perspectives and Pedagogical Perspectives The first section which contains three essays views the field through the lens of social psychological and political issues The second section also containing three essays examines contributions made from studies of grammar dialects and second language acquisition The third section in its four essays focuses on the design development administration and evaluation of basic writing courses the use of computers in basic writing classrooms the role of the writing lab and the preparation of basic writing teachers An appendix that reviews current textbooks for basic writing courses is also included as well as an index This book will be a valuable resource for teachers of basic writing in education courses and workshops that train teachers and tutors and in fields such as linguistics technical writing and Teaching English as a Second Language It will also be an important addition to public and university libraries and many education programs College Writing Basics Tyner, 1993-01-01 WPA, Writing Program Administration, 1994 Critical Thinking and Writing Kristan Cavina, 1995 While some writing books present isolated examples of critical thinking Cavina's Critical Thinking and Writing systematically links concepts of critical thinking and writing through all phases of the writing process By emphasizing those concepts that are of the greatest use to writers and by treating these concepts sequentially the book maximizes your understanding of how critical thinking can sharpen your writing Critical Thinking and Writing begins in Part One with a clear outline of the rhetorical writing process and how it relates to the notion of critical thinking In Parts Two and Three you will focus on the specifics of sentence construction and word usage Part Four includes readings by professional and student writers that offer a multitude of perspectives and topic coverage Taking a discovery approach Critical Thinking and Writing encourages you to expand and reinforce your writing skills through many individual and collaborative activities Making Connections Through Reading and Writing Maria Valeri-Gold, Mary P. Deming, 2000-02 This text is a modern rhetoric reader which integrates reading and writing concerns provides high interest reading selections across a variety of themes includes a diversity of authors cultures and life experiences and builds a framework for study and practice which is pedagogically sound and flexible Writing
