Jesus, the Temple, and Early Christian Memory Scott Brevard, 2025-08-07 Jewish identity during the Second Temple period 515 BCE 70 CE was complex multifaceted and variable but many studies of this period treat Jewish attitudes toward one key feature the Jerusalem temple as simple and uniform Brevard aims to complicate this notion by examining early Christian traditions of Jesus's relationship with the temple Early Christian memory constructed transformed and transmitted traditions about the past into their present contexts Examining early Christian memory as represented by canonical and noncanonical gospel traditions in the first three centuries CE allows scholars to ask how certain figures institutions or beliefs were remembered and represented as well as to posit theories as to why memories were constructed in particular ways and how these memories related to their contemporary historical and social frameworks Early Christians remembered Jesus as having a complex relationship with the Jerusalem temple and these early Christian traditions of Jesus impacted their own contemporary worldviews This complicated relationship with the temple however was not a new phenomenon but one that was already familiar to those constructing experiencing remembering and transmitting their Jewish identity throughout the diaspora world in the Second Temple period

Secretary of State, 1927 The Boston Directory, 1875 Resolving the Tension of Jesus's Mission in Matthew's Ancient Biography Jerry D. Breen, 2024-10-17 Jerry D Breen argues that reading Matthew and all the Gospels as ancient biography is the necessary next step for Gospel studies In particular Breen contends that more specific comparisons should be made between the Gospels and ancient literature Breen stresses that this reading invites narrative critics to place more emphasis on examining the use of sources and the importance of intertextual and historical information that the author introduces to the text Breen places emphasis on the relationship between Jews and non Jews in ancient Galilee and Palestine and challenges the long supported theory that Jesus did not minister to non Jews beyond two or three exceptions Demonstrating that Jesus is inclusive of everyone who comes to him even though he was sent primarily to the Jews Breen argues that the portrait which Matthew creates is one of a Jewish Messiah who is on a mission to restore Israel so that the restored people of God can bless the nations Concluding that rather than two conflicting missions the audience of the gospel is encouraged to view the healing of non Jews during Jesus's ministry as further proof that the Jewish Messiah is bringing restoration to Israel
