Children's Mathematics Making Marks Making Meaning:

Children's Mathematics Maulfry Worthington, Elizabeth Carruthers, 2003-06-02 Drawing on their many years experience of teaching children 3 to 8 years the authors explain the development and range of young children's mathematical marks and representations

Children's Mathematics Elizabeth Carruthers, Maulfry Worthington, 2006-08-07 In Case Study 5 a grassroots Children's Mathematics Network group the initiative supported the participants in their professional change by giving them a space for the detailed and joint consideration of children's mathematical thinking Another significant feature of this initiative is its focus on careful consideration and analysis of children's mathematics and the ways in which professionals can support and encourage the children's mathematical thinking and reasoning The standard of the mathematical understanding thinking and reasoning that the displays revealed was far higher than the specified curriculum objectives for children of this age Researching Effective CPD in Mathematics Education RECME project NCETM 2009 The review also plays great score by play based learning of a mathematical nature and makes specific recommendations regarding early mark making as a precursor to abstract mathematical symbolism Section 115 features children's mathematical graphics and emphasises The role of mark making in children's cognitive development is set out in the taxonomy Carruthers and Worthington 2006 The report recommends that local authorities leaders managers and head teachers should provide a culture with a significant focus on mathematical mark making and a learning environment that encourages children to choose to use their own mathematical graphics to support their mathematical thinking and processes The Williams Maths Review DCSF 2008 At the very heart of the success of the book is the authors ability to see mathematics through young children's eyes by listening to and reflecting on the constant efforts made by children to make sense of their world This is a liberating book which proposes that the teaching of mathematics could and should be a highly creative and enjoyable process Branwen Llewelyn Jones Early Years Consultant at PACE Ltd TACTYC Ground breaking To single out any one chapter would be unfair because there is something thought provoking and inspirational throughout If you want to expand your understanding upwards and outwards then get a copy soon Times Educational Supplement I first read Children's Mathematics Making Marks Making Meaning a couple of years ago and it had an immediate impact on my own thinking and teaching and the work I do with trainee teachers I'm sure you will find it compelling reading too I think it has the potential to change in a fundamental way how we think about early mathematical development Lynne McClure Editor Math Co ordiator's File Mathematics Association In their exceptionally readable and informative book Children's Mathematics Making Marks Making Meaning Carruthers and Worthington 2006 draw attention to one of the main goals of early years teaching that is to help children make links between the mathematics they have already encountered and continue to engage with at home and the more abstract mathematics of the school These authors suggest that by encouraging children to represent mathematical ideas in their own ways and crucially by talking to the pupils about the marks they have made we are given a window onto their thinking that may otherwise be inaccessible Liz Pumphrey NRIC This book draws on the authors many years of teaching children aged three to eight years and also on their extensive research with children in the home nursery and school The authors explain the development and range of young children s mathematical marks and visual representations showing how children make mental connections between their own early marks and subsequent abstract mathematical symbolism and go on to develop their own written methods Combining theory and practice this acclaimed book demonstrates how children s own mathematical graphics are highly creative and show deep levels of thinking The authors show how this is the key to success in school mathematics and to higher levels of achievement The authors are winners of TACTYC s 2003 Jenefer Joseph Award for the Creative Arts 3 8 awarded for their innovative work with children on mathematical graphics Children's Mathematics Maulfry Worthington, Elizabeth Carruthers, 2003-06-02 Drawing on their many years experience of teaching children 3 to 8 years the authors explain the development and range of young children s mathematical marks and representations Children's Mathematics Elizabeth Carruthers, 2006 I purchased a copy of your book over the holidays it is my bebtme reading at the moment but it is far too stimulating Philippa Cook Nursery Teacher Clifton High School Bristol Thought provoking and inspirational throughout If you want to expand your understanding upwards and outwards then get a copy soon John Dabell Education Consultant Former Numeracy Consultant Ofsted Inspector Praise for the First Edition Children s Mathematics Making Marks Making Meaning is essential reading for students of Education and Early Childhood Studies as well as for those practitioners w Very Special Maths Les Staves, 2018-07-24 Written for those who work with pupils with severe and profound learning difficulties this practical book uniquely describes content for a special curriculum in maths and looks at how early ideas develop and become real knowledge essential to daily function Les Staves explains recent theories about the early development of understanding numbers including a breakdown of the processes of learning to count which are largely neglected in the National Curriculum He also outlines the big ideas that are fundamental to the beginnings of mathematical thinking for children with severe and profound learning difficulties which are vital to carrying out practical mathematical processes How to Recognise and Support Mathematical Mastery in Young Children's Play Di Chilvers, 2021-07-12 This book explains how young children develop mathematically in their earliest years and shows the support and teaching needed by adults to accelerate their progress and attainment helping them master mathematical concepts and skills The practical guidance has been carefully developed over a number of years and is based on research undertaken with primary schools in Sheffield as part of the Talk for Maths Mastery initiative It recognises that children s mathematical development is embedded within child led play and connected to deeper levels of thinking and wider dispositions for learning Maths is happening everywhere at any moment we just need to keep an open mind open eyes and listen Including case studies links to practice and reflective questions the chapters reveal what mastery orientation looks like from the children s perspective in their learning and covers children s serve and return conversational talk mathematical babies and their developmental momentum schematic patterns of thinking mathematical mark making child led play problem solving creative and critical thinking how adults can support children s mathematical talk thinking and mastery This book will help all early years practitioners and teachers working with children throughout the EYFS and KS1 build their understanding knowledge experience and confidence of engaging in early mathematics Mathematics Through Play in the Early Years Kate Tucker,2010-03-31 Drawing directly on the classroom practice of the author Kate Tucker this work will give teachers exciting ideas for using play to teach early years mathematics Early Childhood Voices: Children, Families, Professionals Linda Mahony,Sharynne McLeod,Andi Salamon,Jenny Dwyer,2024-05-27 This revolutionary book explores theoretical and practical issues of listening to children families and professionals who advocate for and work with young children to promote social justice and improve their lives and to ensure no one is left behind Listening to children is explored across multiple disciplines internationally and highlights the practical application of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals in the context of the Convention on the Rights of the Child The work explores innovations theories and partnerships and draws on the voices of children families early childhood educators speech language pathologists and multidisciplinary teams from across 17 countries to provide a shared vision for equity peace and justice for all while integrating social environmental economic and dimensions of sustainability Topics include giving children a voice methods for listening to and documenting young children s perspectives listening to and working in partnership with families educators and professionals and wellness and wellbeing of young children and their families across multiple dimensions
