Naturalized Parrots of the World Stephen Pruett-Jones, 2021-08-10 A remarkable exploration of naturalized parrots among the most widely distributed birds in the world There are more than 350 species of parrots in the world and approximately 300 of these species have been transported to other countries through the caged pet trade Whether through escaped captivity or purposeful release many of these parrots are now breeding in new habitats Indeed no less than 75 species of parrots have established breeding populations in countries where they were introduced and parrots are now among the most widely distributed group of birds Naturalized Parrots of the World is the first book to examine this specific avian population Bringing together the work of leading researchers in one convenient volume this book explores the biology of naturalized parrots and their interactions with native ecosystems Experts discuss the global distribution of parrots their genetics conservation implications and human responses to these birds They also consider debates surrounding management issues and the lack of consensus around nonnative species in the wild Later chapters feature case studies of the two most successful species the Rose ringed Parakeet and Monk Parakeet as well as studies of the introduced parrot species located in specific countries and regions including the United States United Kingdom Spain Portugal northern Europe South Africa and Australia Highlighting critical aspects of conservation biology and biodiversity Naturalized Parrots of the World will be an invaluable resource for parrot owners ornithologists conservation biologists and birdwatchers make them fascinating to many people They are ancient birds with unique bill and foot structures that enable them to forage on fruits in the canopy of forest trees as well as on seeds in grasslands Because they depend on fruits and seeds all year round most species are confined to the tropics or sub tropics where the world s biodiversity is at its greatest There are over three hundred species of parrots of which more than one hundred are recognised as rare endangered vulnerable or threatened with extinction Parrots are largely distributed in tropical areas of developing countries where economies are weak and uncertain and where there is great dependence on the exploitation of natural resources particularly hard wood evergreen forests which are preferred parrot habitats Unfortunately high levels of corruption are common to these regions with much illegal trade in animals and little or no law enforcement Collectors of parrots in the first world pay huge sums for rare parrots However research education and conservation actions are greatly reducing illegal trade in African parrots This book provides complete coverage of all aspects of the biology of extant African Malagasy and Mascarene parrots and reviews our knowledge of extinct and fossil parrots from the region Particular themes include the behavioural and ecological characteristics of parrots their species characteristics and conservation biology Current concepts in avian and conservation biology are also discussed Parrots of Africa Madagascar and the Mascarene Islands is aimed at ornithologists conservation biologists avian ecologists academics bird watchers and parrot fans alike It is well illustrated with high quality original photographs and includes distribution maps figures and tables
