Ellis, 2015-07-06 A departure at right angles to thinking in the modern Western world An important original work that should get the widest possible hearing Iain McGilchrist author of The Master and his Emissary Middle Way Philosophy is not about compromise but about the avoidance of dogma and the integration of conflicting assumptions To rely on experience as our guide we need to avoid the interpretation of experience through unnecessary dogmas Drawing on a range of influences in Buddhist practice Western philosophy and psychology Middle Way Philosophy questions alike the assumptions of scientific naturalism religious revelation and political absolutism trying to separate what addresses experience in these doctrines from what is merely assumed This Omnibus edition of Middle Way Philosophy includes all four of the volumes previously published separately 1 The Path of Objectivity 2 The Integration of Desire 3 The Integration of Meaning and 4 The Integration of Belief An Explanation of how Brains Think Peter Baker, 1997 Attempts to bridge the gap between contemporary neuropsychology and people's common sense understanding of themselves The Practice of Medicine James Tyson, Milton Howard Fussell, 1914 Lectures on Diseases of the Nervous System Jerome Keating Bauduy, 1876 Decision Making under Uncertainty Kerstin Preuschoff, Peter N. C. Mohr, Ming Hsu, 2015-06-16 Most decisions in life are based on incomplete information and have uncertain consequences To successfully cope with real life situations the nervous system has to estimate represent and eventually resolve uncertainty at various levels A common tradeoff in such decisions involves those between the magnitude of the expected rewards and the uncertainty of obtaining the rewards For instance a decision maker may choose to forgo the high expected rewards of investing in the stock market and settle instead for the lower expected reward and much less uncertainty of a savings account Little is known about how different forms of uncertainty such as risk or ambiguity are processed and learned about and how they are integrated with expected rewards and individual preferences throughout the decision making process With this Research Topic we aim to provide a deeper and more detailed understanding of the processes behind decision making under uncertainty
