Biographical Dictionary of Psychology Antony J. Chapman, Wendy Conroy, Noel Sheehy, 2016-01-08 The Biographical Dictionary of Psychology provides biographical information and critical analysis of the influences and reception of over 500 people who have made a significant contribution to the field of psychology. Written by an international team of contributors, this volume charts the development of the practice of psychology worldwide from its emergence in the 1850s up to the present day. Biographies range from important historical figures to those who have had a more recent impact on the field, including Chris Argyris, Donald Broadbent, Kay Deaux, Leon Festinger, Sigmund Freud, Erich Fromm, Francis Galton, Eleanor Gibson, Doreen Kimur, Ulric Neisser, Jean Piaget, Herbert A. Simon, B.F. Skinner, and Amos Tversky. Entries are alphabetically organized and similarly structured for ease of access and allowing comparison of information. Introductory biographical details cover main fields of interest, nationality, principal appointments, honours, and places and dates of birth and death. This is followed by full bibliographic details of principal publications, as well as secondary and critical literature, which provide a useful route into further research. Following on from there is an invaluable critical appraisal of the major achievements, influences, and reception of the psychologists themselves. Thorough indexing allows the reader to access information by American Psychological Association subject division, key concepts, name, and institution.

The Culture of Morality Elliot Turiel, 2002-04-08 A thought provoking examination of how explanations of social and moral development inform our understandings of morality and culture

A common theme in the latter part of the twentieth century has been to lament the moral state of American society and the decline of morality among youth

A sharp turn toward an extreme form of individualism and a lack of concern for community involvement and civic participation are often blamed for the moral crisis

Turiel challenges these views drawing on a large body of research from developmental psychology anthropology sociology as well as social events political movements and journalistic accounts of social and political struggles

Turiel shows that generation after generation has lamented the decline of society and blamed young people

Using historical accounts he persuasively argues that such characterizations of moral decline entail stereotyping nostalgia for times past and a failure to recognize the moral viewpoint of those who challenge traditions
