Developmental programming for infants and young children D. S. Schafer,1977 Authentic Assessment for Early Childhood Intervention Stephen J. Bagnato,2007-06-06 Meeting a crucial need this book provides clear recommendations for authentic developmental assessment of children from infancy to age 6 including those with developmental delays and disabilities It describes principles and strategies for collecting information about children s everyday activities in the home preschool and community that serves as a valid basis for intervention planning and progress monitoring Throughout the book emphasizes the importance of enlisting parents as partners with practitioners and teachers in observation and team based decision making Special features of this well organized accessible volume include recommendations for developmentally appropriate assessment tools and Best Practice Guidepoints in each chapter that distill key professional standards and practices AEPS Assessment, Evaluation, and Programming System for Infants and Children Diane D. Bricker,2002 Used after the AEPS Test is completed and scored this developmentally sequenced curriculum allows professionals to match the child s IFSP IEP goals and objectives with activity based interventions beginning with simple skills and moving on to more advanced skills Because the AEPS Curriculum for Birth to Three Years uses the same numbering system as the AEPS Test users can easily locate activities in the curriculum that correspond to specific goals and objectives identified with the test Flexible and easy to use this age appropriate curriculum can be tailored to each child s needs and is equally suitable for use in homes preschools or child care settings Book jacket Psychological Evaluation of the Developmentally and Physically Disabled Jean-Pierre Fouque,Vincent B. Van Hasselt,2013-06-29 The past decade has witnessed a considerable upsurge of clinical and research interest in the problems of developmentally and physically the fields of psychology disabled persons Indeed professionals from special education rehabilitation psychiatry and social work have all directed attention to the development and implementation of evaluation and remedial programs The heightened activity in this area is in part a result of early assessment research with these popUlations which provided preliminary evidence of difficulties in social and emotional adjustment in many disabled individuals In response to these findings many intervention efforts have been implemented to deal with these issues and improve the life situation of the disabled Also there were indications that developmentally and physically disabled children often were deprived of adequate educations As a result legal and legislative initiatives have been enacted in recent years to make public education available to all students irrespective of disability Central to all therapeutic and psychoeducational endeavors with the disabled is psychological evaluation Only through careful and comprehensive psychological evaluation can areas of deficit as well as strengths be identified Once treatment targets and goals have been ascertained psychological evaluation is needed to determine the efficacy of intervention strategies However the field of psychological evaluation in general and with disabled persons in particular has become highly specialized This is largely a function of the changing roles of psychological evaluators
