Developments In Modern Historiography:

Developments in Modern Historiography Henry Kozicki, 1998-08-26 Collections of essays surveying the historical discipline at the end of the 1970s heralded the new approaches that promised a rich diversity and cosmopolitan pluralism in the face of the uncertainty of historical reality The essayists in this successor volume surveying the work of the 1980s finds that these new approaches have not brought satisfactory results and argues that traditional practices reassessed and properly understood constitute the true scientific grounding of the discipline Objective reality is obtainable the historian's subjectivity can be understood rationally historical sources and causal strategies can be managed objectively In brief a truthful account of the past is possible but it must be both objective and subjective

A Global History of Modern Historiography Georg G Iggers, Q. Edward Wang, Supriya Mukherjee, 2013-09-13 So far histories of historiography have concentrated almost exclusively on the West This is the first book to offer a history of modern historiography from a global perspective Tracing the transformation of historical writings over the past two and half centuries the book portrays the transformation of historical writings under the effect of professionalization which served as a model not only for Western but also for much of non Western historical studies At the same time it critically examines the reactions in post modern and post colonial thought to established conceptions of scientific historiography A main theme of the book is how historians in the non Western world not only adopted or adapted Western ideas but also explored different approaches rooted in their own cultures

The Modern Historiography Reader Adam Budd, 2009 A perfect introduction to historiography including both the canon of ideas since the eighteenth century and the work that formed and discussed those ideas

From Consensus to Chaos: An Historical Analysis of Evangelical

Interpretation of 1 Timothy 2:8-15 from 1945-2001 Stephen P. Dray, 2006-11-22 Evangelical interpretation of 1 Timothy 2 8 15 certainly at the level of detail has in the period from 1945 to 2001 changed from one of received consensus to confused plurality This thesis provides an explanation of this phenomenon by identifying and analysing the influences within evangelical interpretation that contributed to and shaped it The first part of the thesis Section A is foundational It establishes the validity of using the term Evangelical as an heuristic concept and provides by means of a wide ranging and unique analysis of published discussions of 1 Timothy 2 8 15 the necessary evidence to demonstrate the changes that took place The major part of the thesis Sections B and C provides for the first time a detailed investigation of these changes This is undertaken with a view to establishing i the factors that contributed to establishing the early consensus ii the circumstances which acted as catalysts to review and on going change and iii the developments which shaped the manner in which discussion subsequently took place and which contributed to the plethora of contemporary interpretations of 1 Timothy 2 8 15 In doing so it adopts a methodology which self consciously combines both diachronic and synthetic approaches and is thus able a to isolate more effectively major trends and their development and b to provide a framework for a more rigorous analysis The resulting study concludes Section D that evangelical interpretation of 1 Timothy 2 8 15 for the period from 1945 to 2001 was embedded in and shaped by contemporary social and ecclesiastical changes and by its own internal dynamics as it responded to these developments In particular differing responses to emerging theological linguistic historical and cultural discussions and to contemporary hermeneutical debates have proved decisive While two broadly distinguishable and conflicting approaches developed they spawned a plethora of different exegetical options and variant interpretations The
