Classic French Noir Deborah Walker-Morrison, 2018-10-18 French film noir has long been seen as a phenomenon distinct from its Hollywood counterpart This book an innovative departure from conventional noir scholarship now adopts a biocultural approach to exploring the French genre through the years 1941-1959. Chapters reveal noir as a product of the social and cultural factors at play in occupied, liberated, and post-war France, marked by malaise, military defeat, Nazi collaboration, and the impact of industrialisation. Furthermore, the book uncovers the evolutionary mechanisms of sexuality and reproduction beneath the national context that drive gendered behaviour on screen. During this period, for example, the emerging urgent demand for population growth, coupled with the severe shortage of eligible males, rendered the mating game particularly perilous for traditional women beginning to enter the workplace. This explains the cynical yet seductive behaviour of the femme fatale. Deborah Walker Morrison focuses on the dangerous, often deadly desires of an array of male and female character types, moving past the celebrated fatal femme to tragic heroines, psychopathic narcissists, fatal hommes, and gangster anti-heroes. The book re-examines productions by directors such as Henri-Georges Clouzot, Jacques Becker, and Jules Dassin, and pulls together strands of sociological, biological, psychological, and evolutionary science to create an illuminating study of the intense human passions underlying the cut-throat world of noir.

Perverse Titillation Danny Shipka, 2011-07-25. The exploitation film industry of Italy, Spain, and France during the height of its popularity from 1960 to 1980 is the focus of this entertaining history. With subject matter running the gamut from Italian zombies to Spanish werewolves to French lesbian vampires, the shocking and profoundly entertaining motion pictures of the Eurocult genre are discussed from the standpoint of the films and the filmmakers, including such internationally celebrated auteurs as Mario Bava, Jess Franco, Jean Rollin, and Paul Naschy. The Eurocult phenomenon is also examined in relation to the influences that European culture and environment have had on the world of exploitation cinema. The author's insight and expertise contribute to a greater understanding of what made these films special and why they have remained so popular to later generations.
