1914 was a dynamic period of history when hundreds of thousands of men women and children migrating primarily from northwestern and eastern Europe descended nascent provinces of Alberta Saskatchewan and Manitoba Some were lured by the promise of prosperity and land ownership while others were fleeing war famine and persecution Homesteaders have been studied and written about extensively often within the context of settling the Canadian West and the displacement of Indigenous populations These narratives while crucial to our understanding of Canada s national identity and colonial past tend to obscure the personal stories beliefs and mindsets of those individuals who came to this part of the world and made a life there Drawing on a treasure trove of archival sources historian Sandra Rollings Magnusson presents a vivid and deeply personal collection of Prairie folklife revealing stories full of humour superstition fear and hope She gives insight into homesteaders daily lives including instances of water witching signs of good and bad luck neighbourly practical jokes and popular pastimes Through adaptation hardship homesickness and a sense of adventure they built communities with others from different backgrounds creating a unique culture that blended the old with the new Columbia Studies in the Social
