Living Terraces in Ethiopia Elizabeth E. Watson, 2009 Living Terraces is both an ethnographic and historical account of the terraces of Konso in southern Ethiopia Terraced agricultural landscapes in Africa are remarkable feats of human engineering and social organization enabling the conservation of soil and water and the cultivation of food Indigenous terraced landscapes are all the more valuable because they have been produced by the people themselves and maintained for several hundred years evidencing a valuable degree of sustainability Yet until this book there have been few accounts of how such landscapes in Africa are produced and maintained over time Taking a period of approximately a hundred years Living Terraces is both an ethnography and history of the terraces of Konso in southern Ethiopia It traces the way Konso agriculture and landscape has been produced and managed in close relationship with broader changes in Konso political and cultural lives In shedding new light on the relationships between landscapes livelihoods culture and development the book demonstrates the embeddedness of social institutions in areas of social cultural religious and political life showing that social institutions cannot easily be abstracted replicated or used instrumentally for development purposes The result is a call for an approach to social institutions so vital to development which centralizes a study of culture history and power in the analysis

Forest Futures Antje Linkenbach, 2007 Under their slogan Ecology is permanent economy the Chipko Movement drew world attention to the struggle over forest rights Taking its name from the Hindi word for embrace villagers hugged trees and prevented contractors from felling them Dedicated to the protection of forests the movement spread throughout India in the 1970s changing the country's natural resource policy Forest Futures argues that the hype took Chipko from its locale and took control away from local people The portrayal of the Chipko movement largely ignored local histories of resistance local conflicts and local forest practices The book argues that the issues of forest control and sustainable forest use have to be seen in the context of concerns about social and economic development regional autonomy and the preferred futures of the local people Social Sciences Research Journal ,2007 Journal of Law and Society ,2006 Occasional Papers in Sociology and Anthropology ,2012 Sociological Bulletin Indian Sociological Society,2004 Neoliberalism, Civil Society and Security in Africa Pádraig Risteard Carmody,2007-10-17 Free market policies have been in operation across Africa for the past twenty five years yet they have failed to reverse deepening poverty on the continent This book explores why such policies continue to be implemented despite their failure and the ways in which they have been reinvented by socialization depoliticization regionalization and securitization The impacts of these policies on security are traced through case studies of Ethiopia Zimbabwe and South Africa and ways to transcend neoliberalism on the continent are also explored Socio-cultural Diversities and Globalization Shiv Rattan Mehta,2010 Contributed papers presented at the seminar organized by Indian Institute of Advanced Study partly with reference to India

Is There Hope for Uncle Sam? Jan Nederveen Pieterse,2008-08-01 For over a century now America has dominated global politics and the global imagination Yet as the dollar declines inequality increases rates of consumption are unprecedented and American unilateralism comes under fire such hegemony is increasingly unsustainable In this provocative new book leading sociologist Jan Nederveen Pieterse asks whether it s possible for America to chart a different course Nederveen Pieterse argues that correcting the course of decline would mean taking drastic steps Only a reinvention of New Deal politics could address social inequality whilst repositioning itself in world politics would mean adopting genuine multilateralism In the current American bubble however political and corporate unaccountability are so entrenched and the constants of policy support for Wall Street the Pentagon and Israel are so widely accepted by powerful elites that change is unlikely to come from within Is there Hope for Uncle Sam is a clear and provocative look at one of the big questions facing us in this century Remaking Modernity Julia Adams, Elisabeth S. Clemens, Ann Shola Orloff,2005-02 A sociology collection reviewing the state of historical study in a wide range of areas while showcasing the use of poststructuralist approaches to studying family gender war protest revolution state making social provisions colonialism trans
