Community Of Knowledge:

Knowledge and Communities Eric L. Lesser, Michael A. Fontaine, Jason A. Slusher, 2000 This is a compendium of articles that focus on how communities can be viewed from an organizational context and how organizations are using communities to leverage external stakeholders such as customers and suppliers

Heuristic and Knowledge-Based Security Checks of Source Code Artifacts Using Community Knowledge Fabien Patrick Viertel, 2021 The goal of this dissertation is to support developers in applying security checks using community knowledge Artificial intelligence approaches combined with natural language processing techniques are employed to identify security related information from community websites such as Stack Overflow or GitHub All security related information is stored in a security knowledge base This knowledge base provides code fragments that represent the community's knowledge about vulnerabilities security patches and exploits Comprehensive knowledge is required to carry out security checks on software artifacts such as data covering known vulnerabilities and their manifestation in the source code as well as possible attack strategies Approaches that check software libraries and source code fragments are provided for the automated use of the data Insecure software libraries can be detected using the NVD combined with metadata and library file hash approaches introduced in this dissertation Vulnerable source code fragments can be identified using community knowledge represented by code fragments extracted from the largest coding community websites Stack Overflow and GitHub A state of the art clone detection approach is modified and enriched by several heuristics to enable vulnerability detection and leverage community knowledge while maintaining good performance Using various case studies the approaches implemented in Eclipse plugins and a JIRA plugin are adapted to the users needs and evaluated

Seasonality of malnutrition: Community knowledge on patterns and causes of undernutrition in children and women in Laisamis, Marsabit County, Kenya Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, Washington State University, 2020-12-28 This report presents findings from a community participatory study conducted to determine the seasonality of malnutrition and factors associated with malnutrition among children and women in Laisamis subcounty Marsabit County The study was conducted as part of the Livestock for Health L4H project This project investigates the cost effectiveness of livestock feeding and nutritional counselling during critical dry periods in reducing the risk of acute malnutrition in children below 5 years of age and in pregnant and lactating women PLW The L4H project is based on the observed patterns of increased acute malnutrition associated with decreased milk consumption among women and children in pastoralist communities The study used a mixed methods approach to collect data from the two main communities Rendille and Samburu residing in Laisamis subcounty The aim of the study was to understand the communities livelihood patterns and strategies the observed temporal patterns of acute malnutrition in children and women the factors determining the malnutrition patterns and communities perspectives on practices and programming used to minimize malnutrition in the community The report outlines the key findings from the three data collection methods used key informant interviews focus group discussions and participatory epidemiology methods and gathering information from men and women from each of the two communities separately

The Protection of Indigenous Knowledge in Africa Enyinna Nwauche, 2025-02-25 This book provides a comprehensive contemporary and timely account of the protection of indigenous knowledge in Africa by examining issues such as the nature of indigenous knowledge as part of indigenous property and as the fulcrum of indigenous communities in Africa Acknowledging the centrality of the members of communities of origin in the production and reproduction of indigenous knowledge this book discusses options to manage the tension between members of the community communities of origin and their political community Furthermore the book abandons the conceptual distinction between negative and positive protection and turns towards a subject consideration of indigenous Scientific and Technical Indigenous Knowledge STIK indigenous heritage indigenous designs indigenous music indigenous audio visual indigenous signs expressions and terms as well as the indigenous literary works that are examined within the context of case studies of the indigenous knowledge human and peoples rights The book concludes that Africa s modest record of the protection of indigenous knowledge must factor in its extensive use as the foundation of Africa s entertainment industry and recommends a tripod of community participation and reward as principles of effective protection Building on the 2017 title of The Protection of Traditional Cultural Expressions in Africa this book adopts a mixed method of a legal pluralistic account of indigenous knowledge using intellectual property as a lens to view indigenous knowledge and a cultural production account of indigenous knowledge and will be useful to intellectual property lawyers sociologists economists Africanists innovation law and policy specialists and legal practitioners
