An Older Kind of Magic (braille) Patricia Wrightson, Giant Despair Meets Hopeful

Martha Westwater, 2000-04 A burgeoning literature for young adult readers exists Yet much of it depicts a despairing disillusioned world telling tales of teenagers suffering from family breakdown violence peer pressure sexual abuse and even suicide But such bleakness need not translate into depression and fear for vulnerable adolescents When we look at YA fiction form another perspective what may emerge is a literature of great power an authenticity Julia Kristeva argues that so long as human beings have love we have hope Taking up this theme Martha Westwater reads six YA novelists Aidan Chambers Robert Cormier Kevin Major Jan Mark Katherine Paterson and Patricia Wrightson through Kristevan theory to find a glimmer of hope amidst our cultural crises A welcome addition to the undeservedly sparse literature on Young Adult fiction Publisher's description

Peter Pan Reimagined Franziska Schweitzer, 2016-06-01 What does Avalon have to do with Neverland Why are the children the only humans who can use Avalon's magic What are the differences between J M Barrie's Peter Pan and Brom's Child Thief Brom wrote a haunting reimagination of a book that is still one of the most important for children Yet The Child Thief is not a book designed for children There is a great difference between the flying boy in Barrie's original and Brom's Peter This poses the question which traits of the original Peter Pan did Brom use as they were and which ones did he give a twist Every change that Brom made has implications that go beyond a simple adaptation to our modern taste Since The Child Thief also does not follow Barrie's Peter Pan concerning the storyline or the narrative style the formerly posed question encompasses therefore the whole The Child Thief This treatise aims to answer these questions and to give an outlook on possible further research

Reading Race Clare Bradford, 2013-05-09 How do children's books relate to the cultures that produce them and how do they influence those cultures In Reading Race Clare Bradford looks at representations of Australia's indigenous peoples in texts for children She shows how these varying representations have helped to colour the attitudes beliefs and assumptions of different generations of Australians To what extent have children's books enabled readers to understand Aboriginal culture relations between Aboriginal and non Aboriginal people and relationships between Aboriginality and national identity Bradford draws on examples from popular and literary children's books of all genres fiction non fiction picture books and school texts She reveals that many children's books display the tensions and uncertainties inherent in relations between Aboriginal and non Aboriginal people Bradford also uncovers the different ideologies of race that have informed Australian children's texts from the nineteenth century to currently popular writers demonstrating cultural shifts in the representation of Aboriginality over time The result is a ground breaking and intelligent picture of how Australian children's books by both white and Aboriginal writers have negotiated the matter of race Reading Race will enhance the ways in which we come to read and understand the complex and delicate issues around Aboriginal
