Divorcing Jack:

Down These Green Streets Declan Burke, 2013-04-15 This book suggests crime fiction is now the most relevant and valid form of writing which can deal with modern Ireland in terms of the post Troubles landscape and post Celtic Tiger economic boom The book takes a chapter by chapter approach with each chapter and author discussing a different facet of Irish crime writing for example Declan Hughes discusses the influence of American culture on Irish crime writing and Tana French reflects on crime fiction and the post Celtic Tiger Irish identity This publication is aimed at both the academic and general reader

City Limits Stephanie Schwerter, 2022-01-13 Belfast Beirut and Berlin are notorious for their internal boundaries and borders As symbols for political disunion the three cities have inspired scriptwriters and directors from diverse cultural backgrounds Despite their different histories they share a wide range of features central to divided cities In each city particular territories take on specific symbolic and psychological meanings Following a comparative approach this book concentrates on the cinematographic representations of Belfast Beirut and Berlin Filmmakers are in constant search of new ways in order to engage with urban division Making use of a variety of genres reaching from thriller to comedy they explore the three cities internal and external borders as well as the psychological boundaries existing between citizens belonging to different communities Among the characters featuring in films set in Belfast Berlin and Beirut we may count dangerous gunmen prisoners wives soldiers and snipers but also comic Stasi members punk aficionados and fake nuns The various characters contribute to the creation of a multifaceted image of city limits in troubled times

Voice and Discourse in the Irish Context Diana Villanueva Romero, Carolina P. Amador-Moreno, Manuel Sánchez García, 2018-02-13 This book examines the intersection of culture and language in Ireland and Irish contexts The editors take an interdisciplinary approach exploring the ways in which culture identity and meaning making are constructed and performed through a variety of voices and discourses This edited collection analyses the work of well known Irish authors such as Beckett Joyce and G B Shaw combining new methodologies with more traditional approaches to the study of literary discourse and style Over the course of the volume the contributors also discuss how Irish voices are received in translation and how marginal voices are portrayed in the Irish mediascape This dynamic book brings together a multitude of contrasting perspectives and is sure to appeal to students and scholars of Irish literature migration studies discourse analysis traductology and dialectology

Screening Ulster Richard Gallagher, 2023-03-03 This book presents extensive research into the cinematic representation of the British identifying Protestant unionist and loyalist community in Northern Ireland and is the first time such comprehensive analysis has been produced Gallagher s research traces the history of the community s representation in cinema from the emergence of depictions of both nationalist and unionist communities in social realist dramas in 1980s British and Irish cinema to today through periods such as those focused on violent paramilitaries in the 1990s and irreverent comedy after the Northern Ireland peace process The book addresses the perception that the Irish nationalist community has been depicted more frequently and favourably than unionism in films about the period of conflict known as The Troubles Often argued to be the result of an Irish nationalist bias within Hollywood Gallagher argues that there are other inherent and systemic reasons for this cinematic deficit The Media and the Tourist Imagination David Crouch, Rhona Jackson, Felix Thompson, 2005-06-15 Tourism studies and media studies both address key issues about how we perceive the world They raise acute questions about how we relate local knowledge and immediate experience to wider global processes and they both play a major role in creating our map of national and international cultures Adopting a multidisciplinary approach this book explores the interactions between tourism and media practices within a contemporary culture in which the consumption of images has become increasingly significant A number of common themes and concerns arise and the contributions included are divided between those written from media studies awareness perspective concerned with the way the media imagines travel and tourism written from the point of view of the study of tourism considering how tourism practices are affected or altered by the media that attempt a direct comparison between the practices of tourism and the media Incorporating case study material from the UK the Caribbean Australia the US France and Switzerland this significant text ideal for students of culture media and tourism studies discusses tourism and the media as separate processes through which identity is constructed in relation to space and place Omnibus, 1998 Film, Drama and the Break-up of Britain Steven Blandford, 2007 Films examined include The full Monty Trainspotting Human traffic Flirts. On H.B.M's service.
