Christine McKay,1995 In the field of addiction research and counselling there has been an increasing investment in the theory of codependency a theory that holds women partly responsible for perpetuating the alcoholism and addiction of their male partners This is the first anthology of feminist essays that presents a cogent critique of this theory The unifying feature of the eighteen essays collected here is the revelation that solid evidence contradicts rather than supports the theory of codependency Its assumptions are found to be unsubstantiated in theory and practice The contributors to the volume explore the history of codependency theory and look at reasons for its growing popularity in medical model politics A central theme emerges that codependency theory is essentially misogynist in nature the result of a male backlash against feminism The collection leaves no doubt that this backlash is effective These essays reveal the many ways that codependency therapy promotes advice and counselling that is damaging and ultimately fails women seeking help for their distress This anthology aimed at professionals as well as readers at large reveals a remarkable body of literature questioning the validity of popular addictions philosophy about women and the quality of the scholarship that supports those theories The Handbook of Addiction Treatment for Women Shulamith Lala Ashenberg Straussner,2002-02-12 Providing essential theoretical and practical guidelines for clinicians educators policymakers and public health professionals The Handbook of Addiction Treatment for Women is a comprehensive resource of the most current research and knowledge from recognized experts in the field of addiction and treatment This much needed guide offers an historical context on the issue of women and addiction examines the myriad challenges of the female addict and includes recommendations for choosing a course of treatment that will meet the specific needs of an individual woman addict The Handbook of Addiction Treatment for Women brings to the field the thinking of researchers and practitioners in a very readable practical compendium This book is for anyone who cares about women with addictions Mary Beth Johnson director Addiction Technology Transfer Center National Office This is a wonderful book that addresses an unusually diverse set of issues some of which are often neglected It is not only useful to clinicians but also to educators researchers policymakers and anyone responsible for treatment program design Joan E Zweben clinical professor of psychiatry University of California San Francisco executive director East Bay Community Recovery Project and 14th Street Clinic Oakland California Fugitive Information Kay Leigh Hagan,1993 Wise reflections on contemporary sexual politics from a witty feminist hothead Publisher s description Sacraments of Surveillance Nicolas Maurice Sheon,1999 Focus on Addictions Kay Marie Porterfield,1992 Contains information and resources needed to understand and cope with various types of addiction Psychology Applied to Modern Life Wayne Weiten,2003 Back
