Atlantic Childhoods in Global Contexts Audra Diptee, David Trotman, 2018-02-02 Atlantic Childhoods in Global Contexts explores childhood and youth in the Global South The term childhood often conjures images of innocence vulnerability and the need for protection but this book suggests that in colonial contexts these images need to be re-examined In fact as the articles in this collection demonstrate deviance culpability and a presumed autonomy were the more popular notions of childhood in the colonial context These notions were held by the various actors in the colonial drama not only colonial officials but interestingly enough often by the colonized people themselves Furthermore traditional notions of childhood as a period of total dependency are challenged in this collection as the various authors explore the ways in which children were pro-active agents who shaped notions of childhood and therefore our understanding of the history of childhood This collection provides in-depth analysis and offers new perspectives on how children were imagined and constructed both legally and informally in the colonial context The contributions cover a broad geographic range that spans the Caribbean Latin America Africa and India Each of the authors explore the ways in which the interplay of Atlantic and Global influences shaped young people's experiences as well as the discourses that were used to articulate concerns about youth The themes explored in this collection include the pathologization of childhood juvenile delinquency cultural creativity and the use of child labour The book ends with an interview by Sara Austin of World Vision Canada who discusses the ways in which the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child neglected to include the voices of children until 2014 This book was originally published as a special issue of Atlantic Studies Global Currents Cornish Studies, Volume 16 Philip Payton, 2008-06 The sixteenth volume in the acclaimed paperback series the only county series that can legitimately claim to represent the past and present of a nation
