Discovering Jerusalem:

Discovering Jerusalem Nahman Avigad, 1983 Discovering Jerusalem Nahman Avigad, 1983 Discovering Jerusalem, 1983 Bring Them into the Land Jeffrey P. Garcia, Daniel Machiela, Chad Pierce, Benjamin Wold, 2025-06-10 This collection of studies honors Professor R Steven Notley's research collegiality and friendship. In this volume, scholars including Dr. Notley's academic peers, colleagues, and former students engage issues gathered around the study of biblical texts within their geographical, archaeological, and linguistic contexts. Throughout his career, Professor Notley has distinguished himself as a world-renowned historical geographer and researcher of the cultural and linguistic context of the Gospels. His voice has been influential in the so-called Jerusalem School of Synoptic Research, typified by an approach to the Gospels in which their Jewish historical and social contexts are central. This basic approach has grown significantly over recent decades and now constitutes a major area of New Testament study. Additionally, Professor Notley has spent nearly forty years introducing groups of students and scholars to the land of Israel, stressing the importance of historical geography for the study of the Bible. Especially noteworthy is his extensive scholarly collaboration over several decades with both Christian and Jewish scholars.

Judah's Desire and the Making of the Abrahamic Israel Hong Guk-Pyoung, 2024-07-01 In this refreshing exploration of Judah's identity formation, the emphasis is placed on the psychological underpinnings of Judah's sentiments towards Israel, aiming to illuminate the significance of Judah's appropriation of Israel. Richly contextual, this book draws parallels observed in Asian contexts, notably those of North and South Korea and China, with its marginal Others. Central to the thesis is that Judah's perceived inferiority to Israel played a crucial role in its quest to appropriate Israel's legacy and identity. Adopting a functionalist lens, Judah's rewriting of Israel's ancestral past is examined. The Abraham and Jacob traditions are understood as competing identity narratives serving as critical discursive tools to construct their pasts. The study scrutinizes how the southern Abraham tradition fundamentally reoriented the Jacob tradition. North Israel's standalone ancestral myth, set against the broader canvas of continued efforts to redefine and embody Israel within the history of Judeo-Christian religions, this exploration underscores how Judah's pivotal appropriation of Israel has established a paradigm for all future endeavors of becoming Israel.

Stone and Dung, Oil and Spit Jodi Magness, 2011-04-12 In Stone and Dung, Oil and Spit, Jodi Magness unearths footprints buried in both archaeological and literary evidence to shed new light on Jewish daily life in Palestine from the mid-first century B.C.E. to 70 C.E., the time and place of Jesus' life and ministry. Magness analyzes recent archaeological discoveries from such sites as Qumran and Masada, together with a host of period texts including the New Testament, the works of Josephus, and rabbinic teachings. Layering all these sources together, she reconstructs in detail a fascinating variety of everyday activities, dining customs, Sabbath observance, fasting, toilet habits, burial customs, and more.
