A Study of the Rhetoric of American Advertising Discourse Aretha

A. Walker, Clark Atlanta University. Department of English, 2007 The Discourse of Classified Advertising Paul Bruthiaux, 1996-07-11 Linguists who have studied simplified varieties of a given language such as pidgins or the language of care givers have tended to explain similarities in their structure by the fact that they use the same mechanisms of simplification Bruthiaux tests this idea by looking at the structure of classified ads in American English using a body of 800 ads from four categories automobile sales apartments for rent help wanted and personal ads Bruthiaux's thesis is that strict uniform constraints on space should result in uniformly simple texts no matter which category they are in and that any variation would be due to the particular needs of each category To prove this he describes the linguistic structure of classified ads and shows that they are characterized by a minimal degree of morphosyntactic elaboration He then examines aspects of their conventions to highlight the role of pre patterned and prefabricated segments whose collocational rigidity may force the inclusion of otherwise dispensable items He finds that there is indeed significant variation across ad categories in terms of morphosyntactic elaboration and concludes that this is due to a greater or lesser need to be explicit as well as a greater or lesser anticipation of interaction Finally he examines the implications of these findings for the study of linguistic simplification and register variation The Environmental Communication Yearbook Stephen P. Depoe, 2014-04-08 First Published in 2006 For scholars and students in environmental communications journalism rhetoric PR mass communication and other related areas Encyclopedia of Contemporary French Culture Alex Hughes, Keith Reader, 1998 More than 700 alphabetically organized entries by an international team of contributors provide a fascinating survey of French culture post 1945 Entries include advertising Beur cinema Coco Chanel decolonization critique feminine football francophone press gay activism Seuil youth culture Entries range from short factual biographical pieces to longer overview articles All are extensively cross referenced and longer entries are facts fronted so important information is clear at a glance It includes a thematic contents list extensive index and suggestions for further reading The Encyclopedia will provide hours of enjoyable browsing for all francophiles and essential cultural context for students of French Modern History Comparative European Studies and Cultural Studies Media Discourses Donald Matheson, 2005 Introducing readers to insights from discourse analysis into how media communication works this book discusses what is being shared in media texts what gets represented who gets to do the talking what people need to share in order to understand the media and how power relations are reinforced or challenged The Language of Persuasion in Advertising. A Corpus-based Critical Discourse Analysis Seda Evirgen, 2021-05-04 Master's Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 1.0 Justus Liebig University Giessen language English abstract The thesis at hand puts a special emphasis on the use of persuasive language in online native advertisements from The New York Times After careful examination the corpus will be compiled of three native advertisements from the field of technology by the sponsors Intel Dropbox and Slack The limitation to these native advertisements and persuasive linguistic devices and techniques was necessary with regard to the scope of this thesis As no linguistic analysis of native advertisements could be found there also was no reference to follow Therefore the thesis at hand lays the foundation for further research in this area The aim is to conduct a corpus based Critical Discourse Analysis in order to investigate and answer two main questions 1 Do online native advertisements make use of the same persuasion methods as previously researched for other advertising types 2 What are the most prominent persuasive linguistic devices and techniques in the online native advertisements from The New York Times In addition to the CDA the corpus based approach is expected to provide quantitative evidence of the existence of discourse and to identify repetitive linguistic patterns of persuasive language use in native advertising The thesis will be structured as follows First the theoretical framework provides general information about the functions and characteristics of advertising while further focusing on native advertisement and the language of advertising It continues with explaining the concept of persuasive language on the basis of ethos logos and pathos and introduces some powerful persuasive techniques in advertisement Further linguistic devices of persuasive language on the phonetic lexical morphological and syntactic level will be defined Additionally the concept of Critical Discourse Analysis will be explained in detail as the thesis at hand follows the CDA framework of Fairclough The data collection method and data analysis procedure will be outlined in Chapter 3 This is followed by an analysis of three online native advertisements from the publisher The New York Times After the analysis the results will be presented and evaluated in order to assess the hypothesis Finally the conclusion provides a summary of the findings and suggests further research opportunities
