Making Kathryn Whitmore, Richard Meyer, 2020-04-15 Whitmore and Meyer bring together top literacy scholars from around the world to introduce the concept of manifestations evidence of meaning making in literacy events practices processes products and thinking Manifestation are windows into literacy identities and serve as affective and sociocultural signifiers of learners understanding at a point in time and in a specific context The volume reclaims progressive spaces for understanding reading writing drawing speaking playing and other literacies It grounds manifestations of literacies in the discourse of meaning making and demonstrates how literacy learners and educators are active agents in this complex social political emotional and multimodal process Ideal for preservice teachers graduate students and researchers in literacy education this book shifts the conversation away from treating literacies as acquired commodities and illustrates how educators engage with learners to deepen understanding of literacy learners experiences Organized by five pillars of literacy teaching learning language curriculum and sociocultural contexts each section covers critical and cutting edge topics and offers examples tools and strategies for research and practical applications in diverse classroom settings Each chapter includes a range of examples and is followed by a short complementary reading extension to engage the reader

Community Literacy Programs and the Politics of Change Jeffrey T. Grabill, 2001-08-30 Uses a specific institution called Western District Adult Basic Education in developing a theory stating that to correct the illiteracy problem in the United States full participation is needed from individual literacy centers

Restorative Literacies Deborah L. Wolter, 2021 Through eight compelling stories of restorative literacies Wolter explores the complex relationships among cognition metacognition identity behavior in schools and literacies Based on the principles of restorative justice restorative literacies are designed to help educators repair harm restore relationships and expand the concept of literacy for some of our most disenfranchised and disengaged students Restorative literacies are not just about growing readers and writers per se They are about creating a community of care that involves students teachers administrators and families so that all students experience racially culturally linguistically and economically responsive instruction in multiple forms of literacies Drawing on the author's rich experiences cultivating a love of reading among her students and studying the practices of other educators Restorative Literacies advances a provocative set of examples about centering the voice and stories of people in our quest to humanize and reimagine how we care for about and with others Book Features Presents a literacy model of restorative justice that includes participation from teachers principals administrators and parents Contains engaging narratives from elementary and secondary schools to illustrate concepts and strategies Explores compassionate listening as a conscious process of assuring that all involved are fully heard a skill that requires removing assumptions judgement and bias Identifies practices that take a positive view of learners as opposed to referring students to special education Uses restoration as an alternative to pushout practices that are designed to control students and often prevent them from reaching their capacity Restorative Literacies offers a refreshing perspective on the power of story in cultivating emancipatory restorative and transformative contexts of learning teaching and development During these times of civil and civic unrest this is the book we need in education From the Foreword by H Richard Milner IV Cornelius Vanderbilt Chair of Education Vanderbilt University Literacy J. David Cooper,1997-02 Literacies of Design Amy Wilson-Lopez,Eli Tucker-Raymond,Alberto Esquinca,Joel Alejandro Mejia,2022-05-15 Though engineering design can tackle the world s most pressing challenges engineering related courses and experiences are often alienating especially to people from minoritized groups Literacies of Design Studies of Equity and Imagination in Engineering and Making covers the latest pedagogical theories as well as case studies and practical tips to support diverse people in identifying problems and designing solutions through engineering and making Engineers tackle a range of problems big and small from climate change to viral transmission to improved handrails for persons with disabilities Inclusion and equity efforts include not only preparing the next generation of engineers and makers but also creating and fostering spaces where youth can express their ideas and bring forth their whole selves This book offers theories and real life examples for educators and practitioners at every level from K 12 through higher education and beyond Adolescent Literacies Kathleen A. Hinchman,Deborah A. Appleman,2017-10-25 Showcasing cutting edge findings on adolescent literacy teaching and learning this unique handbook is grounded in the realities of students daily lives It highlights research methods and instructional approaches that capitalize on adolescents interests knowledge and new literacies Attention is given to how race gender language and other dimensions of identity along with curriculum and teaching methods shape youths literacy development and engagement The volume explores innovative ways that educators are using a variety of multimodal texts from textbooks to graphic novels and digital productions It reviews a range of pedagogical approaches key topics include collaborative inquiry argumentation close reading and composition Building Literacy in the Content Areas Thomas G. Gunning,2003 Reflects the diversity of modern student population and emphasizes the need to gear instruction to include all students This text provides templates for planning programs and making modifications for average gifted ESL and bilingual students It emphasizes strategies techniques and materials for students who are struggling to learn Constructing Litteracie Im/Ta Belasco,2000-08 Contains teaching tips syllabus planning and lesson organization Becoming Literate Update Marie M. Clay,2015-03-30 From her lifelong study of children s development and learning Marie Clay traces children s paths of progress in literacy learning Acclaimed a classic since its first publication Becoming Literate The Construction of Inner Control is essential reading for teachers and educators committed to enabling all children to become literate Effective teachers have a sense of the changes to expect as children begin to engage with early literacy instruction Becoming Literate provides a rich description of those progressions But Marie Clay does not prescribe instructional methods or sequences She urges teachers to base their teaching decisions on careful observation of children s reading and writing behaviours while questioning accounts that conflict with the patterns of responding that they observe The information and understandings in this book provide guidance for delivering powerful literacy learning experiences for all children in the early years of formal instruction from their first days of school to the relative independence of their third year Key chapter content includes language and literacy learning before school the transition to formal schooling and engagement with classroom programmes ways in which existing oral language competencies and knowledge of the world become linked with children s developing awareness of print the constraints and opportunities provided by different instructional approaches the development of processing activities such as self monitoring searching and self correcting A picture emerges of how competent young children construct self extending systems of literacy expertise Successful literacy learners call up a range of ways of working with the information in texts and become able to learn more from their own efforts to read and write text Finally aware that some children for a variety of reasons do not construct an inner control of literacy processing in their initial encounters with formal instruction Marie Clay argues that these children need extra resources and effective early intervention in order to build a sound foundation for further education

Doing and Making Authentic Literacies Linda Denstaedt, Laura Jane Roop, Stephen Best, 2014 Features educators in construction trades English math and multidisciplinary teams who have created empowering disciplinary classrooms and projects that allow students particularly those who are sometimes disenfranchised by the larger culture and current institutional structures to gain new identities as makers and doers
