Digestive System Monographs In Pathology Of Laboratory Animals:

Digestive System Thomas C. Jones, Ulrich Mohr, Ronald D. Hunt, 2012-12-06 The International Life Sciences Institute ILSI was created to promote cooperative efforts toward solving critical health and safety questions involving foods, drugs, cosmetics, chemicals, and other aspects of the environment. The Officers and Trustees believe that questions regarding health and safety are best resolved when government and industry rely on scientific investigations, analyses, and reviews by independent experts. Further, the scientific aspects of an issue should be examined and discussed on an international basis, separate from the political concerns of individual companies. ILSI is pleased to sponsor this set of monographs on the pathology of laboratory animals. This project will be useful in improving the scientific basis for the application of pathologic techniques to health and safety evaluation of substances in our environment. The worldwide distribution of the authors, editors, and Editorial Board who are creating these monographs strengthens the expectation that international communication and cooperation will also be strengthened.

Background Lesions in Laboratory Animals E-Book

Elizabeth Fiona McInnes, 2011-10-24 Background Lesions in Laboratory Animals will be an invaluable aid to pathologists needing to recognize background and incidental lesions while examining slides taken from laboratory animals in acute and chronic toxicity studies or while examining exotic species in a diagnostic laboratory. It gives clear descriptions and illustrations of the majority of background lesions likely to be encountered. Many of the lesions covered are unusual and can be mistaken for treatment-related findings in preclinical toxicity studies. The Atlas has been prepared with contributions from experienced toxicological pathologists who are specialists in each of the laboratory animal species covered and who have published extensively in these areas. Over 600 high definition, top quality color photographs of background lesions found in rats, mice, dogs, minipigs, non-human primates, hamsters, guinea pigs, and rabbits. A separate chapter on lesions in the reproductive systems of all laboratory animals, written by Dr Dianne Creasy, a world expert on testicular lesions in laboratory animals. A chapter on common artifacts that may be observed in histological glass slides. Extensive references to each lesion described. Aging lesions encountered in all laboratory animal species, particularly in rats and mice, which are used for carcinogenicity studies.

Histopathology of Preclinical Toxicity Studies Peter Greaves, 2007-03-23 This work covers effectively all aspects of drug-induced pathology that may be encountered within preclinical toxicity studies. It fills a gap in the pathology literature relating to the preclinical safety assessment of new medicines. It systematically describes in one volume both spontaneous and drug-induced pathology on an organ-by-organ basis. Information relevant to understanding the nature of pathological changes in pre-clinical studies and assessment of their relevance to the clinical investigation of new drugs is also covered. Numerous colour photographs are included that highlight and embellish the histopathological features that are described. It also contains many pertinent references to both human and animal pathology, forming an essential basis for the assessment of drug-induced pathology. NEW TO THE THIRD EDITION Covers drug induced pathology in preclinical animal studies and their relevance for patients or volunteers in clinical studies General comments to each chapter about the relevance of pathological findings to humans Provides essential information that can help decide the relevance of particular lesions for patients
