Opening the Field Patricia Boyle Haberstroh,Christine St. Peter,2007 One of the defining moments in late twentieth century Irish literature was the publication of The Field Day Anthology of Irish Writing 1991 which immediately created a controversy This extensive collection covering more than a thousand years was marked by the virtual absence of female writers To fill this gap Cork University Press published The Field Day Anthology of Irish Writing Irish Women s Writing and Traditions in 2002 In response to both of these texts Opening the Field offers a collection of essays in which ten prominent critics each examine a text by an Irish woman applying a specific feminist perspective The strategy behind the book is to demonstrate the different varieties of feminist criticism and the numerous ways in which books by Irish women can be read taking into account both the text under consideration and the contexts in which it was written and can might be read This collection will be valuable for scholars in both Irish Studies and Women s Studies it will also serve as a useful classroom text as its several perspectives combine with close readings of many works thus serving well as supplementary reading for classes in Irish literature

Feminism Reframed Alexandra M. Kokoli,2008 Feminism Reframed Reflections on Art and Difference addresses the on going dialogue between feminism art history and visual culture from contemporary scholarly perspectives Over the past thirty years the critical interventions of feminist art historians in the academy the press and the art world have not only politicised and transformed the themes methods and conceptual tools of art history but have also contributed to the emergence of new interdisciplinary areas of investigation including notably that of visual culture Although the impact of such fruitful transformations is indisputable their exact contribution to contemporary scholarship remains a matter for debate not least because feminism itself has changed significantly since the Women's Liberation Movement Feminism Reframed reviews and revises existing feminist art histories but also reasserts the need for continuous feminist interventions in the academy the art world and beyond With contributions by Anthea Behm Alisia Grace Chase Jennifer G Germann Catherine Grant Joanne Heath Ruth Hemus Alexandra Kokoli Beth Anne Lauritis Griselda Pollock Karen Roulstone Anne Swartz and Sue Tate

Coming at the moment when contemporary art practices are themselves involved in re cycling re evaluating and re enacting the past this collection asks how feminism's own troubled histories can be reframed productively in the present The questions that feminism raised in the 1970s and 80s are still pertinent and are addressed in a number of original essays What does gender equality mean in the arts How can women's subjectivities be articulated or performed differently in art practices Can attention to gender enable us to engage with complex differences of race sexuality and class of age and generation Do we need new interpretative and conceptual models for writing about art Alexandra Kokoli's thoughtful and illuminating introduction reminds us that reframing is a risky but exciting business if it makes us ask these questions anew with attention to the politics and aesthetics of the present Rosemary Betterton Lancaster University
