Alumni Research Gerlinda S. Melchiori,1988 Alumni Research Gerlinda S. Melchiori,1988 Assessing Student Outcomes - Why, Who, What, How? J. Fredericks Volkwein,2011-11-22 This volume offers administrators and practitioners a summary guide to assessment in higher education from the reasons for undertaking assessment to the delivery of findings It opens with the questions that precede an effective study and drive research design To what extent is the study aimed at educational improvement and to what extent is it aimed at external accountability Are the results expected to demonstrate goal attainment improvement comparison to others meeting standards cost effective investment What is the population from whom assessment data are being collected Are we measuring the knowledge and skills of individuals and making decisions about their remediation certification or development Or are we sampling from particular groups of students and comparing them to each other or perhaps to themselves over time The core of the volume is devoted to the objects of assessment basic skills general education knowledge attainment in the major personal growth attitudes and satisfaction and alumni outcomes keeping in mind both cognitive and noncognitive measures One chapter describes common obstacles to effective assessment others describe conceptual models research methods and data collection strategies and instruments The concluding chapter underscores the importance of communicating research results effectively This is a special volume of the Jossey Bass higher education quarterly report series New Directions for Institutional Research Always timely and comprehensive New Directions for Institutional Research provides planners and administrators in all types of academic institutions with guidelines in such areas as resource coordination information analysis program evaluation and institutional management Expanding the Donor Base in Higher Education Noah D. Drezner,2013-04-17 Winner of the Association of Fundraising Professionals 2014 Skystone Partners Research Prize in Philanthropy and Fundraising Traditionally institutions have relied on wealthy White men to reach their fundraising goals But as state investment in public higher education lessens and institutions look to philanthropy to move from excellence to eminence advancement officers continually need to engage all populations including many that have historically been excluded from fundraising strategies Based on theory research and past practice Expanding the Donor Base in Higher Education explores how colleges and universities can build culturally sensitive fundraising and engagement strategies This edited book presents emerging research on different communities that have not traditionally been approached for fundraising including Lesbian Gay Bisexual Transgender and Queer LGBTQ alumni African Americans Latinos graduate students young alumni women and faculty donors Chapters discuss and analyze successful programs and provide practical suggestions and strategies to create and implement fundraising programs that engage these new donor populations Expanding the Donor Base in Higher Education is an essential resource for any institution looking to expand their pool of donors and cultivate a more philanthropic mindset among alumni and students EBOOK: Business Research Methods Boris Blumberg,Donald

Cooper, Pamela Schindler, 2014-03-16 Are you about to begin your dissertation or a research project but don't know what topic to choose Are you unsure of what research methods to use and how they should be applied to your project Are you worried about how to write up your research project Then this is the book for you A balanced coverage of qualitative and quantitative methods means that no matter what approach you choose to use for your project there are examples and case studies to help guide you through the process Student Research boxes provide an insight into situations and research decisions that students have encountered in real life projects They contain hints tips and sometimes questions to help you think through your own project A Running Case Study charts the progression of two student research projects one qualitative and one quantitative and shows how the content of each chapter can be used to develop their projects Thought provoking questions are included in order to help you consider the issues and decisions involved which you can then apply to your own project Deeper Insight boxes delve further into particular research issues offering you a detailed description to increase your understanding of these areas whilst Real Life examples put research methods into context by showing you how they have been applied in real world situations The Online Learning Centre contains a vast amount of extra resources to help you create a superior project Six statistical chapters are available to help you prepare test and analyse your hypotheses and data Extra cases appendices and dataset exercises help you to take your study further Check out the Research Skills Centre for free chapters of Study Skills books examples of good and bad proposals and templates for questionnaires and surveys All of this and more can be found at www.mcgraw-hill.co.uk/textbooks/blumberg

In the realm of adult learning graduate and postgraduate education teaching and assessment strategies are usually an extension of undergraduate strategies without contextualizing the different needs of this learner community Unlike undergraduate learners graduate and postgraduate learners are a population of different skills and attributes carrying strong academic professional and social personal identities To strengthen this relationship of personal and professional self adult learner goes through the functional enculturation critical thinking and emancipation stages While believing in relevance to their practice they capitalize on their prior knowledge and bring complexity to the learning context using their varied experiences and needs Despite years of research into andragogy and interesting findings on the differences in learning e.g attention working memory executive function etc in an ageing adult brain it is harder to make any claim about dramatically different teaching and learning needs of adult learners Additionally there is an inadequacy of research tapping into the effectiveness of collaborative flexible self directed and reflective learning and formative competency based assessment in this learner population To strengthen healthcare systems we aim to curate a research collection of articles considering teaching and assessment strategies for adult learners to create a holistic and comprehensive snapshot of the preferences and needs of adults in the context of postgraduate health professions education This article collection lead will focus on the studies exploring innovative learning and assessment strategies within the context of graduate and postgraduate health professions education This area will also include the integration of AI and competency based education to address the intricacies associated with graduate and postgraduate degrees particularly in nursing medicine allied health physiotherapy dental and interdisciplinary teams With a specific emphasis on adult learners the contributions should seek to identify effective pedagogical approaches tailored to the unique learner characteristics and challenges posed by diverse healthcare disciplines We also aim to consider the limited availability of educational collections in this domain and provide insights that will be beneficial for the potential audience including educators program developers and practitioners Manuscript submissions must focus on graduate and postgraduate health professions education and could consider such themes as for example but not limited to Investigation of the needs and preferences of adult graduate and postgraduate learners as they differ from undergraduates Novel teaching and assessment strategies for adult learners or assessment of the effectiveness of current strategies Applications of AI and other new technologies in graduate and postgraduate education Differences in effective pedagogical approaches across graduate and postgraduate education in diverse healthcare disciplines Exploration of educational strategies that align with the age related changes in neurophysiological and cognitive profiles of adults The educational strategies may include adaptive technologies cognitive training interventions or teaching and learning approaches We welcome original research systematic reviews policy and practice reviews hypothesis and theory perspectives clinical trials community case studies curriculum instruction and pedagogy data report and brief research report specific to the context of this collection We don t accept opinion and commentary manuscripts Topic Editor Nabil Zary has received research grants from Pfizer and GE Healthcare independent medical education grants with no involvement from the funders All other Topic Editors declare no conflicts of interest

Evaluating Student Recruitment and Retention Programs Don Hossler,1991 Adapting Strategic Planning to Campus Realities Frank A. Schmidlein,Toby H. Milton,1990 Analyzing Faculty Workload Jon F. Wergin,1994-12-07 The question being asked with increasing regularity is Just what do faculty members do Studies of faculty workload have been commissioned in state after state Taken together the studies indicate that college faculty members are working harder than ever but are probably teaching less and are almost certainly having less contact with students particularly undergraduates This volume of New Directions for Institutional Research explores how the public discourse about faculty work might be improved and suggests how colleges and universities might document that work in a fashion that not only more faithfully describes what faculty do but also allows for reports that are more comprehensive and useful This is the 83rd issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Institutional Research For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page Managing with Scarce Resources William P. Simpson,1993 This volume addresses the topic of managing with scarce resources Contributions have been designed to assist those who direct institutional research those engaged in planning the use of resources and faculty leaders and higher education administrators both on campus and in broader higher education roles Institutional researchers and strategic planners can survey the areas in which research is needed and consider how they can facilitate decision making by supplying information and analysis and indentifying options Faculty leaders and administrators can benefit from the discussion of options that best further the basic objectives to be served in a period in which resources for higher education are particularly scarce
