A History of Architecture on the Comparative Method for the Student, Craftsman, and Amateur Banister Fletcher, Sir Banister Fletcher, 1905

The Production Sites of Architecture Sophia Psarra, 2019-01-14

The Production Sites of Architecture examines the intimate link between material sites and meaning. It explores questions such as how do spatial configurations produce meaning? What are alternative modes of knowledge production? How do these change our understanding of architectural knowledge? Featuring essays from an international range of scholars, the book accepts that everything about the production of architecture has social significance. It focuses on two areas: firstly, relationships of spatial configuration, form, order, and classification; secondly, the interaction of architecture and these notions with other areas of knowledge such as literature, inscriptions, interpretations, and theories of classification, ordering, and invention. Moving beyond perspectives which divide architecture into either an aesthetic or practical art, the authors show how buildings are informed by intersections between site and content, space and idea, thought and materiality, architecture and imagination. Presenting illustrated case studies of works by architects and artists including Amale Andraos, Dan Wood, OMA, Koen Deprez, and John Soane, The Production Sites of Architecture makes a major contribution to our understanding of architectural theory.

The Political Unconscious of Architecture Nadir Lahiji, 2016-02-24

Thirty years have passed since eminent cultural and literary critic Fredric Jameson wrote his classic work The Political Unconscious: Narrative as a Socially Symbolic Act in which he insisted that there is nothing that is not social and historical; indeed, that everything is in the last analysis political. Bringing together a team of leading scholars including Slavoj Žižek, Joan Ockman, Jane Rendell, and Kojin Karatani, this book critically examines the important contribution made by Jameson to the radical critique of architecture over this period, highlighting its continued importance to contemporary architectural discourse. Jameson's notion of the political unconscious represents one of the most powerful notions in the link between aesthetics and politics in contemporary discourse. Taking this along with other key concepts from Jameson as the basis for its chapters, this anthology asks questions such as: Is architecture a place to stage class struggle? How can architecture act against the conditions that affirmatively produce it? What does the critical and the negative mean in the discourse of architecture? and How do we prevent architecture from participating in the reproduction of the cultural logic of late capitalism? This book breaks new ground in architectural criticism and offers insights into the interrelationships between politics, culture, space, and architecture, and in doing so, it acts as a counterbalancing force to the current trend in architectural research where a general aestheticization dominates the discourse.

The Efficacy of Architecture

Tahl Kaminer, 2016-12-08

A significant ideological transition has taken place in the discipline of architecture in the last few years. Originating in a displeasure with the starchitecture system and the focus on aesthetic innovation, a growing number of architects emboldened by the 2007-8 economic crisis have staged a rebellion against the dominant mode of architectural production. Against a disinterested position emulating high art they have advocated political engagement, citizen participation and the right to the city. Against the fascination with the rarefied architectural object they have promoted an interest in everyday life, play, self-build and personalization. At the centre of this rebellion is the call for architecture to re-assume its social and political role in society. The Efficacy of Architecture supports the return of architecture to politics by interrogating theories, practices and instances that claim or evidence architectural agency. It studies the political theories animating the architects, revisits the emergence of reformist architecture in the late nineteenth century and brings to the fore the relation of spatial organization to social forms. In the process a clearer picture emerges of the agency of architecture of the threats to as well as potentials for meaningful societal transformation through architectural design.
