Cauldron of the Gods Jan Fries,2005 Imagine the forest As darkness falls the somber beeches disappear in misty twilight and shadows seem to gather under their branches Far away the blackbird s call tells of the coming of the night The birds cease their singing silence descends soon the beasts of the night will make their appearance Between tangled roots hidden by nettles and brambles the earth seems to ripple A few humps of earth seem to emerge from the ground They are the last traces of burial mounds of mounds which were tall and high 2500 years ago Many of them have disappeared hidden by tangled roots of beech and oak ploughed flat by careless farmers others again show caved in tops where grave robbers have looted the central chamber The locals shun these hills There are tales that strange fires can be seen glowing on the mounds and that on spooky nights great armed warriors arise from their resting places Then the doors to the deep are thrown open and unwary travelers have to beware of being invited into the halls of the dead and unborn Here the kings of the deep feast and celebrate time passes differently and strange treasures may be found Who knows the nights when the gates are open Who carries the primrose the wish flower the strange blossom that opens the doors to the hollow hills

Paxson,2002 The Romans came conquered and departed leaving behind them a strange new religion called Christianity The princes of Britannia have driven back the invading Saxons and dream of a return to bygone days while others on the island invoke the magic of a time older still For the revered ancient goddesses live on in the hearts and memories of the proud royal women of the old British tribes And now King Artor wounded in body and spirit proclaims that the sword and the spear must be put to rest and summons his mother Igerne Lady of the Lake to use the powers of the Cauldron to heal a troubled wartorn land But old jealousies and new power struggles threaten disaster as Artor s sister Morgause hides a deadly secret and a darker magic It is Guendivar the queen who holds the key to their survival if she can master her own power in time For a darkness is emanating from high places and it threatens
