Changing Culture Of Libraries:

The Changing Culture of Libraries Renee Feinberg, 2001-07-20 From the civil rights and antiwar demonstration 1960s to the age of the electronic library there have always been many librarians and readers who care deeply about library traditions In compiling this collection of 18 essays editor Renee Feinberg has included writers who give voice to their struggle to preserve something of a classic library culture in a dot com environment Essays cover childhood library memories and reasons for going to library school the perspective of a blind library professional and small town library development The thoughts of a cataloguing librarian of an academic librarian on preservation of collections of an American using libraries at Cambridge and the British Museum as a college student and of a reference and bibliographic librarian at a small Midwestern liberal arts college are related Writers discuss their experiences in the libraries of Southern California Montserrat in the aftermath of hurricane and volcano and the participation of alternative libraries in South Africa s anti apartheid movement Fighting discrimination promoting ethnic minorities in the profession and reaching out with technology to those who have been traditionally underserved by libraries are among the topics addressed The contributors are Jocelyn Berger Barbara A Bishop Gracelyn Cassell Geraldine DeLuca Tony Doyle David Faucheux Janet Freedman Carey Harrison Ruth Isenberg Bruce Jensen Marie Jones Michael Kahan Nancy Kuhl Lina M Lowry Faye Reagon Don Reich Carla J Stoffle and the editor

An Overview of the Changing Role of the Systems Librarian Edward Iglesias, 2010-09-09 This book presents a series of case studies from systems librarians all over the world It documents how the profession has changed in recent years with the introduction of new web technologies services such as hosted databases that are supported by vendors rather than in house as well as shifts in technology management New skill sets are constantly being added as systems librarians become much more versed in dealing with service providers outside the library as well as training and supporting their traditional constituencies Written by practitioners in the field who have real world experience Draws on a wide authorship to show how different perspectives can colour the perception of similar issues Provides real world scenarios where challenges in the field have been met and overcome

The Changing Academic Library John Budd, 2005 The Changing Academic Library is a revision of Budd s The Academic Library Its Context Its Purpose and Its Operation This book has been completely updated and revised to reflect the dynamic states of higher education and academic libraries It presents a critical examination of major issues facing colleges and universities and the unique challenges that their libraries must come to grips with Current practice is reviewed but it is examined in the broader context of educational needs scholarly communication politics and economics technology and the nature of complex organizations Publisher s description

Achieving Cultural Change in Networked Libraries William Foster, 2017-03-02 The advent of globally networked information is a historic change Educational commercial and industrial institutions depend on its effective exploitation for their success but cultural and human factors are the biggest obstacles This book looks at the roots of these problems and how they may be overcome through understanding recent developments in technical services the difference between service and technical orientation organizational culture the role of subject expertise and the cultural heritage of the information profession The book provides guidance and outlines best practice in managing converging technologies supporting change with organizational models using cultural audits the role of focus groups in implementing change characterizing a learning organization succeeding as a change agent and managing change through technical services Several chapters discuss the Electronic Libraries programme and the TAPin Training and Awareness Programme in networks model as examples of how cultural change takes place particularly in the academic environment one chapter concentrates exclusively on the characteristics of special libraries This illuminating insight into the evolution of information cultures and how they do or don't adapt to networked services will help information and library managers to achieve change with deeper understanding and will provide useful advice for senior managers restructuring IT and information departments The book is core reading for students of Information Studies

Challenges of Information Technology Management in the 21st Century Information Resources Management Association. International Conference, 2000 As the 21st century begins we are faced with opportunities and challenges of available technology as well as pressured to create strategic and tactical plans for future technology Worldwide IT professionals are sharing and trading concepts and ideas for effective IT management and this co operation is what leads to solid IT management practices This volume is a collection of papers that present IT management perspectives from professionals around the world The papers seek to offer new ideas refine old ones and pose interesting scenarios to help the reader develop company sensitive management strategies Libraries and Cultural Change Ronald C. Bengé, 1970

International and Comparative Librarianship Peter Johan Lor, 2019-06-17 Based on his extensive experience in international librarianship Peter Johan Lor South Africa's first National Librarian and a former Secretary General of the IFLA has written the first comprehensive and systematic overview of international and comparative librarianship His book provides a conceptual framework and methodological guidelines for the field and covers the full range of international relations among libraries and information services with particular attention to the international political economy of information the international diffusion of innovations and policy in library and information services LIS development and international aid It concludes with a discussion of the practical relevance and future of international and comparative studies in LIS See a short interview with Peter Lor on his work <https://www.ifla.org/node/92590> Managing Cultural Change in Public Libraries John Pateman, Joe Pateman, 2018-11-09 Managing Cultural Change in Public Libraries argues that changes to library Strategies and Systems can lead to transformations in library Structures that can in turn shape and determine Organisational Culture Drawing on Management theories as well as the ideas of Marx and Maslow the authors present an ambitious Analytical Framework that can be used to better understand support and enable cultural change in public libraries The volume argues for radical but sustainable transformations in public libraries that require significant changes to

Strategies Structures Systems and most importantly Organisational Culture These changes will enable Traditional Libraries to reach out beyond their current active patrons to engage with new customer groups and will also enable Traditional Libraries to evolve into Community Led Libraries and Community Led Libraries to become Needs Based Libraries Public libraries must be meaningful and relevant to the communities they serve For this to happen the authors argue all sections of the local community must be actively involved in the planning design delivery and evaluation of library services This book demonstrates how to make these changes happen acting as a blueprint and road map for organisational change and putting ideas into action through a series of case studies Managing Cultural Change in Public Libraries will be of particular interest to academics and advanced students engaged in the study of library and information science It should also be essential reading for practitioners and policymakers and all those who believe that communities should be involved and engaged in the planning design delivery and evaluation of library services
