Managing Change in Academic Libraries

Joseph Branin, 2013-01-11 Managing Change in Academic Libraries helps academic librarians plan, implement and manage changes to the fundamental structure of their organizations. It shows readers that in academic libraries the two driving forces behind most change are economics and technology. Declines in funding for education and in the purchasing power of libraries have made it impossible to maintain the status quo, let alone realize growth in traditional information services and collection development. Add to this downward trend in library economics the explosion of new information technology and its potential for radically altering communications and knowledge management and one has the ingredients for some amazing changes in libraries. To help manage these many changes, chapters in Managing Change in Academic Libraries approach change with a mixture of radical and rational ideas. Readers learn academic librarians' views on dealing with change as they read about an environmental scan which identifies both internal and external forces that are increasing the amount and scope of change in academic libraries; technological change and its impact in academic libraries; the academic library director's role as an agent of change; how two large library systems managed to change in some very fundamental ways when faced with serious economic and political challenges; difficult personnel issues faced by academic libraries as they move into new organizational structures and adopt new management styles; the future of traditional reference services in light of rapid developments in computing and networking; how to change bibliographic control to better serve the changing expectations and needs of user communities; conducting a restructuring study and recommendations for organizational change in a large research library system. Each chapter shows academic librarians how they can respond imaginatively and nimbly to economic, political and technological change that envelopes their professional work life. Academic librarians will refer to Managing Change in Academic Libraries again and again as a survival tool as they meet with challenging and unpredictable changes.

Challenges in

Librarianship Nancy J. Becker, Elizabeth B. Pollicino, Dennis H. Holtschneider, 2003 These contextual cases remind us that we think best when the issues before us evoke both passion and professionalism. Here are vividly detailed everyday tensions of librarianship portrayed among human complexities and imaginable lives. We become stronger not by crafting elegant solutions but by conducting focused contemplation and multifaceted talk. Dr. David Carr, Associate Professor, School of Information and Library Science, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Serving Library Users from Asia John Hickok, 2019-06-12 Asian populations are among some of the fastest growing cultural groups in the US. While books on serving other target groups in libraries have been published, e.g. disabled, Latino seniors, etc., few books on serving library users of Asian heritage have been written. Thus, the timely need for this book. Rather than a generalized overview of Asians as a whole, this book has 24 separate chapters, each on 24 specific Asian countries, cultures of East, Southeast and South Asia.

with a wealth of resources for understanding interacting with outreaching to and serving library users of each culture Resources include cultural guides both print and online language helps with sample library vocabulary Asian booksellers nationwide cultural groups professional literature and more Resources and suggestions are given for all three types of libraries public school and academic making this book valuable for all librarians The demographics of each Asian culture numbers and distribution plus history of immigration and international student enrollment is also featured As a bonus each chapter spotlights a US public school and academic library providing model outreach to Asian library users Additionally this book provides a detailed description and analysis of libraries in each of the 24 Asian countries The history development facilities conditions technology classification systems and more of public school and academic libraries are all discussed with detailed documentation Country conditions influencing libraries and library use are also described literacy levels reading cultures languages and writing systems educational systems and more Based on the author s 15 years of research and travels to Asia this work is a must have for all librarians Interdisciplinarity and Academic Libraries Daniel C. Mack,2014-05-14 This volume addresses an emerging yet largely unexamined strategic priority for academic and research libraries interdisciplinarity in the academy As colleges and universities chart new areas for knowledge creation teaching learning outreach and service libraries face challenges in developing their response to these transformational changes in higher education The global networked society the convergence of multiple areas of study and the need to address major challenges that transcend any particular discipline are framing issues for twenty first century institutions of higher education Library leaders must seize this exciting opportunity to place the library at the center of the emerging interdisciplinary academy by creating and delivering a transformative suite of programs services and collections Libraries can lift their institutions to a higher plane of interdisciplinary activity by leveraging their place in higher education to become the hub of interdisciplinary activity where librarians foster innovative models of teaching learning research conversation reflection and engagement This book offers multiple perspectives on transforming academic library programs collections and services to meet transformational challenges for higher education Experienced librarians bring an interdisciplinary perspective to collection development information literacy digital projects knowledge organization services for research centers and other timely and relevant topics Library Times International ,1988 Leading in the New Academic Library Becky Albitz,Christine Avery,Diane Zabel,2017-05-31 Providing perspectives of early and mid career librarians as well as highly seasoned professionals this book offers leadership advice that will help academic librarians of all experience levels to surmount the issues they face and overcome new challenges Academic libraries and librarianship have dramatically evolved in recent years in everything from their collections and facilities to their relationships with faculty and internal and external partners These changes demand different mindsets and new skills on the part of librarians This book explains how the quality of leadership is the key component of successfully implementing innovative service and practices and as a result of the success of the library itself To that end it offers practical guidelines for implementing leadership principles and achieving success in this evolving culture Coedited by a team of three highly experienced academic librarians Leading in the New Academic Library gives actionable advice regarding subjects like helping staff gain new competencies leading from the middle and succession planning The content also addresses hot topics such as the academic library s new role the integration of IT into library organization and infrastructure making data driven decisions renovating a library space to meet changing user needs and collaborating with internal as well as external partners
