Catching Up with the Computer Revolution Lynn M. Salerno,1983      Five Technologies for Educational Change David F. Salisbury,1996      Computerworld ,1983-07-25 For more than 40 years Computerworld has been the leading source of technology news and information for IT influencers worldwide Computerworld s award winning Web site Computerworld.com twice monthly publication focused conference series and custom research form the hub of the world s largest global IT media network      Technological Change and Economic Catch-up Grazia D. Santangelo,2005-01-01 This book tackles the issue of technological and economic catch up by examining the role that public research institutions and local policy play in the promotion of this process by fostering local science technology linkages with incoming foreign owned multinationals

Personal Computing ,1983      Technology and Human Productivity John W. Murphy,John T. Pardeck,1986-09-23 The editors have assembled a collection of original essays offering a holistic view of how technology shapes the modern world Consideration is given to several major issues such as the dehumanizing effects of technology which tends to objectify social life the emphasis on productivity and the accumulation of material goods and the intricacies involved in creating a responsible technology that would establish more socially sensitive principles values and beliefs Technology is examined not simply as machinery but as a procedure that can be used to define every aspect of social existence and the book demonstrates how to bring about the changes that are necessary to remedy this alienating situation      Keeping Informed Lynn M. Salerno,1981      How Computers Entered the Classroom, 1960-2000 Carmen Flury,Michael Geiss,2023-06-19 In the history of education the question of how computers were introduced into European classrooms has so far been largely neglected This edited volume strives to address this gap The contributions shed light on the computerization of education from a historical perspective by attending closely to the different actors involved such as politicians computer manufacturers teachers and students political rationales and ideologies as well as financial political or organizational structures and relations The case studies highlight differences in political and economic power as well as in ideological reasoning and the priorities set by different stakeholders in the process of introducing computers into education However the contributions also demonstrate that simple cold war narratives fail to capture the complex dynamics and entanglements in the history of computers as an educational technology and a subject taught in schools The edited volume thus provides a comprehensive historical understanding of the role of education in an emerging digital society      Computer Briefing Lynn M. Salerno,1986 A quick non technical authoritative digest of the major computer issues trends and technologies management must understand to do business today Written in the same down to earth style as Ms Salerno s Harvard Business Review articles it guides managers around the hurdles of the information age Topics covered include artificial intelligence telecommunications office automation and security      Computer Crime Investigation Catherine H.
