Cat Mouse:

Discrete Event Systems: Modeling and Control S. Balemi, P. Kozák, Rein Smedinga, 1993-01-01 Research of discrete event systems is strongly motivated by applications in flexible manufacturing in traffic control and in concurrent and real time software verification and design just to mention a few important areas Discrete event system theory is a promising and dynamically developing area of both control theory and computer science Discrete event systems are systems with non numerically valued states inputs and outputs The approaches to the modelling and control of these systems can be roughly divided into two groups The first group is concerned with the automatic design of controllers from formal specifications of logical requirements This research owes much to the pioneering work of P J Ramadge and W M Wonham at the beginning of the eighties The second group deals with the analysis and optimization of system throughput waiting time and other performance measures for discrete event systems The present book contains selected papers presented at the Joint Workshop on Discrete Event Systems WODES 92 held in Prague Czechoslovakia on August 26 28 1992 and organized by the Institute of Information Theory and Automation of the Czechoslovak Academy of Sciences Prague Czechoslovakia by the Automatic Control Laboratory of the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology ETH Zurich Switzerland and by the Department of Computing Science of the University of Groningen Groningen the Netherlands

Language and Logic Johan van der Auwera, 1985-01-01 In this volume Van der Auwera attempts to clarify the idea that language reflects both mind and reality and to elucidate the reflection idea by turning it into the cornerstone of a linguistic theory of meaning
