The Action Learning Guidebook William J. Rothwell, 1999-05-28 Make training more REAL than ever before You've got groups facilitated by managers or team members conducting project planning and problem solving You've got relatively few formal trainers and instructors In this modern team based environment how can you ensure that groups develop the skills and knowledge they require You want training solutions that are problem oriented goal based and work related You need The Action Learning Guidebook With action learning no one ever loses sight of the job The responsibility for learning falls upon the shoulders of the learners who feel more invested and interested in the development process than ever before Your groups and teams will use this powerful resource to Create their own learning experiences Plan projects and implement solutions Discover new problem solving techniques and much more Two reasons to buy this book read it from cover to cover and apply the concepts immediately 1 Rothwell is one of the best authors in the performance improvement business and 2 action learning is one of the most powerful performance improvement strategies Sivasailam Thiagi Thiagarajan president Workshops by Thiagi editor Thiagi Game Letter The Action Learning Guidebook is clearly written and the content is excellent The chapter on partnering with clients to determine real training needs is a gem Dale M Brethower professor of psychology Western Michigan University president International Society for Performance Improvement ISPI Rothwell a legend in instructional design gives your employees the tips and techniques they need to conduct reality based action learning sessions Teach groups to teach themselves Organizational Dynamics, 1997 Understanding Educational Leadership Hugh Busher, 2006 This book is aimed at school leaders middle managers and teachers who want to understand more critically about how the organizational and interpersonal processes of leadership affect the quality of learning and teaching The book considers how leaders at all levels in schools from the most senior manager to the classroom teacher negotiate and work together to construct sustain and improve successful learning and promote a sense of community among the students and staff who are members of the school This is a timely book as there is renewed recognition of the importance of distributed leadership in developing creative schools and an emerging recognition of teachers operating as leaders and managers of students learning Another key element is the recognition of the importance of middle managers in schools as pastoral leaders and subject leaders who can shape effective learning and teaching Whilst other books have looked at the processes of school leadership ie strategies and functions the focus here is on people and the quality of relationships and how they can impact on the success or failure of school processes It offers insights into why some strategies employed by educational leaders work and others do not Supervising Postgraduate Research Pam Green, 2005 This title describes and theorises postgraduate research activities that aim to explore aspects of professional practice This type of research is characterised by its focus on developing knowledge that is useful to practitioners and is often undertaken by people who can be described as being scholar practitioners rather than more traditional academics Facilitating Reflective Learning in Higher Education Anne Brockbank, Ian McGill, 1998 This revised edition includes the most current thinking on reflective learning as well as stories from academics and students that bring to life the practical impact of reflection in action Based on sound theoretical concepts the authors offer a range of solutions for different teaching situations taking into account factors such as group size physical space and technology They also offer facilitation rather than traditional teaching methods as a productive and useful skill that helps teachers and encourages students to interact and develop reflexive skills that can be used beyond their student years BOOK JACKET Global Perspectives on Dance Pedagogy Congress on Research in Dance. Conference, 2009 Journal on Excellence in College Teaching, 2007 Conflict Resolution and the Scholarship of Engagement Cheryl Lynn Duckworth, Consuelo Doria Kelley, 2012 As the field of conflict analysis and resolution continues to grow scholars and practitioners increasingly recognize that we can learn from one another Theory must be informed by practice and practice must draw on sound theory Above and beyond this lies a further recognition without at least attempting to actually engage and transform entrenched conflicts our field cannot hope to achieve its potential We will merely remain in a more diverse multi disciplinary ivory tower This edition breaks new ground in explicitly connecting the Scholarship of Engagement to the work of conflict resolution professionals including those in the academy those in the field and those who refuse to choose between the two The text explores a wide variety of examples of and thinking on the Scholarship of Engagement from participatory action research to peace education and from genocide prevention to community mediation and transitional justice
