Moody, 2013-03-15 In this engaging introductory dialogue Todd Moody maps the spectrum of philosophical arguments and counterarguments for the existence of God Structuring colloquial conversations along classical lines he presents a lively and accessible discussion of issues that are central to both theist and atheist thinking including the burden of proof the first cause a necessary being the natural order suffering miracles experience as knowledge and rationality without proof The second edition is a significant and comprehensive revision Moody broadens and deepens the conversation by addressing additional arguments such as the problem of animal suffering the moral argument intelligent design and human exceptionalism The discussion of the cosmological argument is updated to reflect recent work on the Kalam Cosmological Argument A short preface explains the scope of the work and the purpose of the dialogue form Suggested further readings of contemporary and classical sources are also included

Common Sense in Early 18th-Century British Literature and Culture Christoph Henke, 2014-10-14 While the popular talk of English common sense in the eighteenth century might seem a by product of familiar Enlightenment discourses of rationalism and empiricism this book argues that terms such as common sense or good sense are not simply synonyms of applied reason On the contrary the discourse of common sense is shaped by a defensive impulse against the totalizing intellectual regimes of the Enlightenment and the cultural climate of change they promote in order to contain the unbounded discursive proliferation of modern learning Hence common sense discourse has a vital regulatory function in cultural negotiations of political and intellectual change in eighteenth century Britain against the backdrop of patriotic national self concepts This study discusses early eighteenth century common sense in four broad complexes as to its discursive functions that are ethical which at that time implies aesthetic as well transgressive as a corrective political in patriotic constructs of the nation and repressive of otherness The selection of texts in this study strikes a balance between dominant literary culture Swift Pope Defoe Fielding Johnson and the periphery such as pamphlets and magazine essays satiric poems and patriotic songs
