Argumentation Updated:

Reflections on Theoretical Issues in Argumentation Theory Frans H. van Eemeren, Bart Garssen, 2015-08-08 This volume presents a selection of papers reflecting key theoretical issues in argumentation theory. Its six sections are devoted to specific themes including the analysis and evaluation of argumentation argument schemes and the contextual embedding of argumentation. The section on general perspectives on argumentation discusses the trends of empiricalization, contextualization and formalization, offers descriptions of the analytical and evaluative tools of informal logic and highlights selected principles that argumentation theorists do and do not agree upon. In turn, the section on linguistic approaches to argumentation focuses on the problem of distinguishing between explanation and argument while also elaborating on the role of verbal indicators of argument schemes. All essays included in this volume point out notable recent developments in the study of argumentation.

Reasonableness and Effectiveness in Argumentative Discourse Frans H. van Eemeren, 2015-08-27 This volume presents 50 contributions on the themes of reasonableness and effectiveness and their connections, which are central issues in argumentation theory. It discusses van Eemeren's views on the study of argumentation, the approach to argumentation adopted in pragma-dialectics, pragma-dialectical perspectives on the dialectical and pragmatic dimensions of argumentative discourse, the notion of strategic maneuvering, the pragma-dialectical method of analyzing argumentative discourse, the treatment of fallacies as violations of rules for critical discussion, pragma-dialectical views on context, the role of logic, verbal indicators of argumentative moves and argument schemes, and the process of writing and rewriting argumentative texts. The pragma-dialectical quantitative approach to empirical research on argumentative discourse is illustrated by reporting on selected illustrative experimental studies as well as qualitative studies of historical cases.

Arguments and Reason-Giving Matthew W. McKeon, 2024 Arguments figure in our everyday practices of giving reasons. For example, we use arguments to advance reasons to explain why we believe or did something, to justify our beliefs or actions, to persuade others to do or to believe something, and to advance reasons to worry or to fear that something is true. This book is about our uses of arguments to advance their premises as reasons for believing their conclusions, i.e. as reasons for believing that their conclusions are true. What exactly is involved when you successfully use an argument to advance the premises as reasons for believing the conclusion? Philosopher Matthew W. McKeon suggests there is more involved than one might think.

Arguments and Arguing Thomas A. Hollihan, Kevin T. Baaske, 2022-05-06 Arguing is a fundamental human activity; it is a process of making sense of the world and negotiating understandings with others. Arguing can be and often is healthy for both relationships and societies. The values of the community are shaped through people sharing their opinions, offering reasons in support of their beliefs, and deliberating. Hollihan and Baaske present techniques for effective analysis, logical reasoning, and socially constructive argumentation. They illustrate their discussions of theory and practice with multiple engaging examples. The book focuses on narrative argument as a story backed by evidence to evaluate courses of action or to resolve conflicts A chapter on visual argumentation highlights the power of visual elements in arguments Effective arguing requires a sensitivity to the demands of different argumentative contexts Readers will become familiar with the elements of argument essential for politics the law debate business and relationships Narrative arguments are rational arguments Learning about the narrative reasoning process helps us tell more convincing credible and compassionate stories and to become better critics of the stories we hear The Structure of Argument with 2021 MLA Update Annette T.

Olbrechts-Tyteca, 1991-09-30

The New Rhetoric is founded on the idea that since argumentation aims at securing the adherence of those to whom it is addressed it is in its entirety relative to the audience to be influenced says Chaïm Perelman and L. Olbrechts-Tyteca and they rely in particular for their theory of argumentation on the twin concepts of universal and particular audiences while every argument is directed to a specific individual or group the orator decides what information and what approaches will achieve the greatest adherence according to an ideal audience This ideal Perelman explains can be embodied for example in God in all reasonable and competent men in the man deliberating or in an elite Like particular audiences then the universal audience is never fixed or absolute but depends on the orator the content and goals of the argument and the particular audience to whom the argument is addressed These considerations determine what information constitutes facts and reasonableness and thus help to determine the universal audience that in turn shapes the orator's approach The adherence of an audience is also determined by the orator's use of values a further key concept of the New Rhetoric Perelman's treatment of value and his view of epideictic rhetoric sets his approach apart from that of the ancients and of Aristotle in particular Aristotle's division of rhetoric into three genres forensic deliberative and epideictic is largely motivated by the judgments required for each forensic or legal arguments require verdicts on past action deliberative or political rhetoric seeks judgment on future action and epideictic or ceremonial rhetoric concerns values associated with praise or blame and seeks no specific decisions For Aristotle the epideictic genre was of limited importance in the civic realm since it did not concern facts or policies Perelman in contrast believes not only that epideictic rhetoric warrants more attention but that the values normally limited to that genre are in fact central to all argumentation Epideictic oratory Perelman argues has significant and important argumentation for strengthening the disposition toward action by increasing adherence to the values it lauds These values are central to the persuasiveness of arguments in all rhetorical genres since the orator always attempts to establish a sense of communion centered around particular values recognized by the audience A Study of the Technique of Argumentative Analysis as Treated by Ancient and Modern Writers Earl William Wells,1927 Reasoning and Public Health: New Ways of Coping with Uncertainty Louise Cummings,2015-03-27 This book argues that in order to be truly effective public health must embrace a group of reasoning strategies that have traditionally been characterized as informal fallacies It will be demonstrated that these strategies can facilitate judgements about complex public health issues in contexts of uncertainty The book explains how scientists and lay people routinely resort to the use of these strategies during consideration of public health problems Although these strategies are not deductively valid they are nevertheless rationally warranted procedures Public health professionals must have a sound understanding of these cognitive strategies in order to engage the public and achieve their public health goals The book draws upon public health issues as wide ranging as infectious diseases food safety and the potential impact on human health of new technologies It examines reasoning in the context of these issues within a large scale questionnaire based survey of nearly 900 members of the public in the UK In addition several philosophical themes run throughout the book including the nature of uncertainty scientific knowledge and inquiry The complexity of many public health problems demands an approach to reasoning that cannot be accommodated satisfactorily within a general thinking skills framework This book shows that by developing an awareness of these reasoning strategies scientists and members of the public can have a more productive engagement with public health problems
