Current Trends In Knowledge Acquisition:

Current Trends in Knowledge Acquisition Bob Wielinga, 1990 Knowledge acquisition has become a major area of artificial intelligence and cognitive science research The papers in this book show that the area of knowledge acquisition for knowledge based systems is still a diverse field in which a large number of research topics are being addressed However several main themes run through the papers First the issues of integrating knowledge from different sources and K A tools is a salient topic in many papers A second major topic in the papers is that of knowledge modelling Research in knowledge based systems emphasises the use of generic models of reasoning and its underlying knowledge An important trend in the area of knowledge modelling aims at the formalisation of knowledge models Where the field of knowledge acquisition was without tools and techniques years ago now there is a rapidly growing body of techniques and tools Apart from the integrated workbenches already mentioned above several papers in this book present new tools Although knowledge acquisition and machine learning have been considered as separate subfields of AI there is a tendency for the two fields to come together This publication combines machine learning techniques with more conventional knowledge elicitation techniques A framework is presented in which reasoning problem solving and learning together form a knowledge intensive system that can acquire knowledge from its own experience

Contemporary Knowledge Engineering and Cognition

Franz Schmalhofer, Gerhard Strube, 1992-08-12 This book has its source in the question of whether any knowledge engineering tools can be applied or analyzed in cognition research and what insights and methods of cognitive science might be relevant for knowledge engineers It presents the proceedings of a workshop organized by the Special Interest Groups Cognition and Knowledge Engineering of the German Society for Informatics held in February 1992 in Kaiserslautern The book is structured into three parts The first part contrasts work in knowledge engineering with approaches from the side of the soft sciences The second part deals with case based approaches in expert systems Cognition research and the cognitive adequacy of expert systems are discussed in the third part Contributions from Canada England France Switzerland and the USA demonstrate how knowledge engineering and cognitive science are woven together internationally

AISB91 Luc Steels,Barbara Smith,2012-12-06 AISB91 is the eighth conference organized by the Society for the Study of Artificial Intelligence and Simulation of Behaviour It is not only the oldest regular conference in Europe on AI which spawned the ECAI conferences in 1982 but it is also the conference that has a tradition for focusing on research as opposed to applications The 1991 edition of the conference was no different in this respect On the contrary research and particularly newly emerging research directions such as knowledge level expert systems research neural networks and emergent functionality in autonomous agents was strongly emphasised The conference was organized around the following sessions distributed intelligent agents situatedness and emergence in autonomous agents new modes of reasoning the knowledge level perspective and theorem proving and machine learning Each of these sessions is discussed below in more detail

DISTRIBUTED INTELLIGENT AGENTS Research in distributed AI is concerned with the problem of how multiple agents and societies of agents can be organized to co operate and collectively solve a problem The first paper by Chakravarty MIT focuses on the problem of evolving agents in the context of Minsky s society of mind theory It addresses the question of how new agents can be formed by transforming existing ones and illustrates the theory with an example from game playing Smieja GMD Germany focuses on the problem of organizing networks of agents which consist internally of neural networks
