The Age of Missing Information Bill McKibben, 2014-09-03 Highly personal and original McKibben goes beyond Marshall McLuhan's theory that the medium is the message The New York Times Imagine watching an entire day's worth of television on every single channel Acclaimed environmental writer and culture critic Bill McKibben subjected himself to this sensory overload in an experiment to verify whether we are truly better informed than previous generations Bombarded with newscasts and fluff pieces game shows and talk shows ads and infomercials televangelist pleas and Brady Bunch episodes McKibben processed twenty four hours of programming on all ninety three Fairfax Virginia cable stations Then as a counterpoint he spent a day atop a quiet and remote mountain in the Adirondacks exploring the unmediated man and making small yet vital discoveries about himself and the world around him As relevant now as it was when originally written in 1992 and with new material from the author on the impact of the Internet age this witty and astute book is certain to change the way you look at television and perceive media as a whole By turns humorous wise and troubling a penetrating critique of technological society Cleveland Plain Dealer Masterful a unique bizarre portrait of our life and times Los Angeles Times Do yourself a favor Put down the remote and pick up this book Houston Chronicle Using Propensity Scores in Quasi-Experimental Designs William M. The Indirect Estimation of Migration Andrei Rogers,Jani Little,James Raymer,2010-07-03 This book presents the culmination of our collaborative research going back over 15 years Rogers Little 1994 and for one of us even longer Rogers 1967 1973 It addresses a difficult yet necessary area of demographic research what to do in data situations characterized by irregular inadequate or missing data A common solution within the demographic community has been what is generally referred to as indirect estimation In our work the focus has been on the indirect estimation of migration and our use of the term indirect follows the description given in the 1983 United Nations manual which defined it as techniques suited for analysis of incomplete or defective demographic data United Nations 1983 p 1 We wrote this book with a goal to make it accessible to a reader familiar with introductory statistical modeling at the level of regression and categorical data analysis using log linear models It is primarily intended to serve as a reference work for demographers sociologists geographers economists and regional planners Opening Arguments Erik Muller,Erik Muller,1993 Nigeria Demographic and Health Survey ,1999 Public Mental Health William W.
