Age Of Protest:

Culture Strike Laura Raicovich,2021-06-15 In an age of protest culture and museums have come under fire Protests of museum funding for example the Metropolitan Museum accepting Sackler family money and boards for example the Whitney appointing tear gas manufacturer Warren Kanders to say nothing of demonstrations over exhibitions and artworks have roiled cultural institutions across the world from the Guggenheim Abu Dhabi to the Akron Art Museum At the same time never have there been more calls for museums to work for social change calls for the emergence of a new role for culture As director of the Queens Museum Laura Raicovich helped turn that New York municipal institution into a public commons for art and activism organizing high powered exhibitions that were also political protests Then in January 2018 she resigned after a dispute with the Queens Museum board and city officials became a public controversy she had objected to the Israeli government using the museum for an event featuring vice president Mike Pence In this book Raicovich explains some of the key museum flashpoints and she also provides historical context for the current controversies She shows how art museums arose as colonial institutions bearing an ideology of neutrality that masks their role in upholding capitalist values And she suggests how museums can be reinvented to serve better public ends

The Age of Protest Norman F. Cantor,2021-09-05 This book first published in 1970 examines significant protest movements of the twentieth century and looks at the similarities and differences between the various dissents and rebellions Beginning with the mood of weariness and dissatisfaction with the old regimes at the turn of the century it discusses the emergence of protest as an ideal a viable force for reform From radical unionism it traces the thread through bohemianism international communism and anticolonialism in the twenties fascism and Nazism and protest as a way of life up to 1945 the Afro Asian and early civil rights movements of the fifties and the agitating students and revolutionary movements of the sixties
