Burning the Box of Beautiful Things Alex Seago, 1995. Alex Seago's book has been inspired by his desire to understand and discover the origins of postmodern culture in Britain. Arguing that postwar art schools provided a vital crucible for the development of a particularly English cultural sensibility, he focuses on cultural change at the Royal College of Art, London, during the 1950s and 1960s. The students' attack on the English box of beautiful things, a term used by a former student to describe the neo-Romantic, neo-Victorian, highly decorative tastes of some RCA tutors, took several forms which eventually resulted in the Pop Art produced by the 1959-1962 generation: Boshier, Phillips, Jones, Hockney et al. Seago's study of the emergence of English postmodernism is based on content analysis of a central archive, ARK: The Journal of the Royal College of Art, and interviews with ARK's former editors, art editors and contributors, including Len Deighton, novelist and art editor of ARK, 10 Clifford Hatts, student at the RCA, 1946-48, and later Head of the Design Group, BBC; Peter Blake, RCA Painting School, 1953-56; Robyn Denny, RCA Painting School, 1954-57.

The Classical Hollywood Cinema David Bordwell, Janet Staiger, Kristin Thompson, 1985. An overview of American studio filmmaking that examines its distinct mode of film practice in both production and style from 1917 through 1960.

The Art Direction Handbook for Film & Television Michael Rizzo, 2014-07-11. In this new and expanded edition of The Art Direction Handbook, author Michael Rizzo now covers art direction for television in addition to updated coverage of film design. This comprehensive professional manual details the set-up of the art department and the day-to-day job duties: scouting for locations, research, executing the design concept, supervising scenery construction and surviving production. Beyond that, there is an emphasis on not just how to do the job but how to succeed and secure other jobs. Rounding out the text is an extensive collection of useful forms and checklists, as well as interviews with prominent art directors.

Inside Art Direction: Interviews and Case Studies Steven Brower, 2016-03-24. For many design students, the expectation is that they will one day reach the top of the ladder within a design studio or corporation and become an art director. But what does this mean and how does a design student get there? What does an art director do? How is it different from being a designer? How does one lead and inspire a team? Work with freelance designers, illustrators and photographers? How do they sell this work to editors, department heads and clients? Becoming a Successful Art Director answers all these questions for design students and professionals alike. It is at once an illustrated art book, a handbook on how to be creative in this exciting work environment and a guide to what to expect on entering the workplace. Giving practical, hands-on advice for both beginning and advanced students, it will provide a clear picture for graphic design and illustration students of how to work with art directors and the
