Development And Integration Of Behaviour:

The Development and Integration of Behaviour Paul Patrick Gordon Bateson,1991-05-30 What regularities lie behind the development and organization of behaviour in animals and humans One theme emerging from this book is that ideas have to flow in both directions between the different levels of analysis between the neural and behavioural levels and between the individual and the social group Another theme is that it is not enough to identify the many factors operating in the development and integration of behaviour The processes must also be studied directly Bringing together work at different levels and studying behavioural dynamics require more knowledge and expertise than any one person can usually command Links have to be made between different disciplines and specialists have to learn to work with others who speak with what at first seem to be mutually incomprehensible scientific languages The book illustrates how this may be achieved The themes of this book are strongly related to the approach of Robert Hinde in whose honour the chapters were written Development of Antisocial and Prosocial Behavior Dan Olweus,Jack Block,Marian Radke-Yarrow,1986 Multisensory Development Andrew J. Bremner,David J. Lewkowicz,Charles Spence,2012-06-21 We perceive and understand our environment using many sensory systems vision touch hearing taste smell and proprioception These multiple sensory modalities give us complementary sources of information about the environment This book explores how we develop the ability to integrate our senses

Migration and Development Savina Ammassari,2012-11-16 This book focuses on international migration and return of highly skilled Ghanaians and Ivorians and presents empirical research findings that demonstrate that under certain circumstances return migrants can act as key development agents in their home country It investigates the influence of a number of factors that condition their motivation to return and their capacity to stimulate change in their countries of origin The aim of the study is the assessment of policy implications related to lite returnees development impact in evolving socio economic contexts The comparative and multi method research strategy adopted revealed that migrants tend to return home with considerable savings financial capital new knowledge skills and ideas human capital as well as with valuable contacts social capital Besides their level of education work profile and particular life experience whether these migrants have worked abroad for a significant period proved the most critical factor influencing their acquisition of different kinds of capital However there seems to be an optimum work duration abroad approximately five years after which the benefits deriving from human and financial capital acquisition tend to stabilise At the micro level back home skilled migrants attained their goals improving their relative income levels expressing satisfaction with their work conditions and more generally enjoying a higher quality of life At the meso level they provided support to others in line with expectations and pressures they faced They also introduced many kinds of new knowledge skills and ideas in their workplace At the macro level return migrants promoted economic and political transformations through among others the creation of new businesses and various community development initiatives The role of return migrants is influenced by many factors linked also to their situation back home Reintegration into their home context proved challenging especially for women and returning migrants need time to overcome initial hurdles and get settled before they can start to make any meaningful contribution That is one of the reasons why there is a need to facilitate their reintegration and create a conducive environment which can also foster return migration of the highly skilled lite More importantly however evidence is produced in favour of arguments and ideas about brain circulation a strategy that can help in maximising the positive effects stemming from migration and return
