Coffee at the Shadows National Trust for Historic Preservation in the United States,1976      Tea and Coffee Journal,1928      The Aarend,1930      Shadow Economies in the Globalising World Anna Knutsson,2022-12-30 From West Indian sugar and bottles of Southeast Asian arrack to French red wines English felt cloth and Mediterranean lemons many global wares ended up in the Scandinavian borderlands during the late eighteenth century This book explores how and why these goods came to be there and analyses what smuggling can reveal about the emergence of global trade the formation of the nation state and the development of consumer society in Europe s northernmost outskirts This book shows that the global underground was ubiquitous in the Nordic countries and fundamentally altered them politically economically socially and culturally Through re evaluating the role of smuggling the book complements and challenges established historical accounts about state building market dynamics consumer culture and ideas and identity It also offers a roadmap for how to think about illegal global trade and how to approach this notoriously difficult research field By integrating illegality the book aims to show how an illicit web entangled often overlooked peripheral territories with traditional portals of globalisation and proposes a novel take on early modern globalisation and the paths to modernity in the European hinterlands To achieve this a wide variety of sources are used including court records administrative sources diaries ambassadorial correspondence and maps in various languages including Swedish Finnish Norwegian English and French This book makes a significant contribution to the literature on economic history the first wave of globalisation the study of shadow economies and Scandinavian history more broadly      The Tea & Coffee Trade Journal,1924      Women in Love David Herbert Lawrence,1930      God's Shadow Alan Mikhail,2020-08-18 An arresting New York Times Book Review revisionist history demonstrating how Islam and the Ottoman Empire made our modern world The history of the Ottoman Empire once the most powerful state on earth ruling over more territory and people than any other world power has for centuries been distorted misrepresented and suppressed in the West With this original and wide ranging Wall Street Journal global history Alan Mikhail vitally recasts the Ottoman conquest of the world through the dramatic biography of Sultan Selim I 1470 1520 Drawing on previously unexamined sources and upending prevailing shibboleths about Islamic history and jingoistic rise of the West theories Mikhail s game changing account radically transforms our understanding of the importance of Selim s Ottoman Empire in the annals of the modern world      Performing the Community Cora Govers,2006 Economic liberalization modern mass media and new religious and political movements have touched even the most remote areas in Mexico and the Northern Highlands of the state of Puebla are no exception When this coincides with recent infrastructures such as roads and electricity and new income sources from cash crop production and urban migration the nature of rural communities rapidly changes This study shows how the people of the Totonac mountain village of Nanacatl deal with their increasingly pluriform and differentiated local world By performing stories rituals and exchanges they have countered centrifugal cultural and social forces Rather than leading to the demise of the community modernization and globalization thus seem to have reinforced the sense of local belonging How is this possible This anthropological analysis points at the simultaneous efforts of new and old cultural brokers ritual specialists and healers as well as young migrants who recreate the community by linking the outside world to local customs Their initiatives are taken up by women crucial for community building through elaborate food exchanges and men whose involvement is central to public ritual life Their combined efforts create a living community and link the village past to its rural urban present and future as a place of belonging in times of change Cora Govers is a senior staff member at the Netherlands Organisation for Scientific Research NWO
