Intimations of Modernity Louis A. Pérez Jr., 2017-01-11 Louis A Pérez Jr's new history of nineteenth century Cuba chronicles in fascinating detail the emergence of an urban middle class that was imbued with new knowledge and moral systems Fostering innovative skills and technologies these Cubans became deeply implicated in an expanding market culture during the boom in sugar production and prior to independence Contributing to the cultural history of capitalism in Latin America Pérez argues that such creoles were cosmopolitans with powerful transnational affinities and an abiding identification with modernity This period of Cuban history is usually viewed through a political lens but Pérez here emphasizing the character of everyday life within the increasingly fraught colonial system shows how moral social and cultural change that resulted from market forces also contributed to conditions leading to the collapse of the Spanish colonial administration Pérez highlights women's centrality in this process showing how criollas adapted to new modes of self representation as a means of self fulfillment Increasing opportunities for middle class women's public presence and social participation was both cause and consequence of expanding consumerism and of women's challenges to prevailing gender hierarchies Seemingly simple actions riding a bicycle for example or deploying the abanico the fan in different ways exposed how traditional systems of power and privilege clashed with norms of modernity and progress

The Science of Literature Helmut Müller-Sievers, 2015-04-24 One of the most contentious questions in contemporary literary studies is whether there can ever be a science of literature that can lay claim to objectivity and universality for example by concentrating on philological criticism by appealing to cognitive science or by exposing the underlying media of literary communication The present collection of essays seeks to open up this discussion by posing the question's historical and systematic double has there been a science of literature i e a mode of presentation and practice of reference in science that owes its coherence to the discourse of literature Detailed analyses of scientific literary and philosophical texts show that from the late 18th to the late 19th century science and literature were bound to one another through an intricate web of mutual dependence and distinct yet incalculable difference The Science of Literature suggests that this legacy continues to shape the relation between literary and scientific discourses inside and outside of academia
