borders and of the sovereign nation state as such are decisive Hence the vulnerability of civil society has increased considerably as open societies are more risk prone In reaction to these developments academics and politicians have refined the traditional concept of national security into a broader notion considering a multitude of aspects affecting the safety of the human being as such In consequence the classical security architecture is being adapted bit by bit to the conditions of the 21st century On each level i e the national regional as well as international layers diverse mechanisms have been developed as exemplary illustrated with reference to the transnational danger of terrorism
