Compassionate Landscape:

Compassionate Landscape Humphrey Carver,1975      A New Garden Ethic Benjamin Vogt,2017-09-01 In a time of climate change and mass extinction who we garden for matters more than ever Our landscapes push aside wildlife and in turn diminish our genetically programmed love for wildness How can we get ourselves back into balance through gardens to speak life s language and learn from other species Plenty of books tell home gardeners and professional landscape designers how to garden sustainably what plants to use and what resources to explore Yet few examine why our urban wildlife gardens matter and not just for ourselves but for the larger human and animal communities Author Benjamin Vogt addresses why we need a new garden ethic and why we urgently need wildness in our daily lives lives sequestered in buildings surrounded by monocultures of lawn and concrete that significantly harm our physical and mental health He examines the psychological issues around climate change and mass extinction as a way to understand how we are short circuiting our response to global crises especially by not growing native plants in our gardens Simply put environmentalism is not political it s social justice for all species marginalized today and for those facing extinction tomorrow By thinking deeply and honestly about our built landscapes we can create a compassionate activism that connects us more profoundly to nature and to one another      Still Renovating Greg Suttor,2016-11-22 A necessary look at how public non profit and co operative housing flourished and faded

Compassion-Based Practices for Secondary Traumatic Stress Ruth Gottfried,2024-10-23 Compassion Based Practices for Secondary Traumatic Stress is a comprehensive guide that merges profound theoretical insights with practical compassion based practices Tailored for helping professionals working with survivors of trauma this book illuminates a path toward addressing secondary traumatic stress and promoting vicarious posttraumatic growth through a compassionate lens Distinguished by its in depth and hands on creative approach inclusion of East Asian philosophical principles and harmonization of self and other oriented compassion this resource guide provides empowering tools for helping professionals from diverse fields of practice and their host organizations      Principles That Shape the Unshakable Life Felix Clarke,2025-11-29 In an era of noise confusion and endless choice what does it truly mean to live a meaningful life Principles That Shape the Unshakable Life distills timeless wisdom into clear actionable rules for living with purpose order and strength Grounded in philosophy psychology and lived experience this book explores why meaning matters more than comfort and how responsibility honesty and courage form the foundation of a fulfilled existence Each principle invites you to look inward confront chaos and rise above it with clarity and intention Professionals thinkers and lifelong learners will find both challenge and guidance within these pages how to balance freedom with discipline independence with compassion and ambition with integrity This is not a guide to perfection it s a call to growth A reminder that the weight you carry can make you stronger and that within the rules that bind us lies the freedom to become who we truly are      Usable Urban Past Planning and Politics Alan F.J. Artibise,1980-11-15 This collection of original essays serves both the historians and geographers who seek a deeper understanding of Canada's urban past and the planners, politicians, and citizens who seek to preserve or to change their cities today

The Struggle for Social Justice in British Columbia Irene

Howard, 2011-11-01 Helena Gutteridge was a socialist and feminist whose vision helped to shape social reform legislation in British Columbia in the first decades of the twentieth century and also one of the first women there to hold high political office. She was born in England in 1879. A militant suffragist tutored by the Pankhursts, she learned the politics of confrontation early. Emigrating to Vancouver in 1911, she found the suffrage movement there too polite and organized the B.C. Woman's Suffrage League to help working women fight for the vote. And she kept on organizing. As a journeyman tailor, she was a power in her union local and as the only woman on the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council, their rebel girl, she championed the rights of workers and organized women to fight for themselves. In the 1930s, as a member of the feisty new political movement, the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, she joined in the struggles of the unemployed for work and wages. Then in 1937, as the first woman ever elected to Vancouver City Council, she led the fight for low-income housing. As was typical for women of her class and time, Helena did not keep personal records, nor did organizational records exist to any extent. Irene Howard made it her task over a period of years to search out and assemble details of Helena's life and career and to interview old comrades who knew Helena and the turbulent times in which she lived. Herself a miner's daughter, the author brings to her subject an affectionate regard and sympathy qualified by the larger view of the scholar and researcher. The result is a lively biography shot through with humour and pathos that pays homage to Helena Gutteridge and to many of the people who have been inspired by a cause and who have taught us about the politics of caring.

Teaching

Self-Compassion to Teens Lorraine Hobbs, Niina Tamura, 2022-04-15 Grounded in knowledge about the unique developmental challenges of adolescence, this book presents an innovative approach for teaching self-compassion to teens and young adults in clinical, educational, or community settings. Lorraine Hobbs and Niina Tamura provide guided practices, creative exercises, and teaching strategies adapted from Kristin Neff and Christopher Germer's widely disseminated Mindful Self-Compassion program for adults. Case examples, sample dialogues, and scripts illustrate how to set up and run successful groups that address teen concerns such as self-criticism, self-esteem, social comparison, and strong emotions. The book offers guidelines for cultivating a personal practice and working with parents. Tips for providing a safe, effective learning environment are woven throughout. A special chapter covers trauma-sensitive teaching.

Urban Policy Issues Edmund P. Fowler, David Siegel, 2002 Including new and original readings, this collection examines how Canadian municipal governments have responded to some of the most fundamental changes to the municipal system.

since its origins in the nineteenth century It focuses on issues of housing transportation and public health charting current changes such as the growth in size and scope of municipalities and pointing to an increase in power of municipal governments While it is unlikely that provincial governments will ever formally accede any direct policy making powers to the municipalities the editors conclude that these changes mean the local governments will gradually obtain a de facto status as real policy making bodies     Housing Economics George Fallis,1985     Environment & Planning ,1990
