French Parasitic Gaps C.R. Tellier,2012-12-06 The study of parasitic gap constructions e.g. these are the reports which you corrected _ before filing _ i has been a very lively area of research over the last decade The impetus behind this lies mostly in the marginality of the construction Clearly the intuitions that native speakers have about parasitic gaps do not stem from direct instruction hence it is reasoned such knowledge follows from the restrictions imposed by Universal Grammar Furthermore it is unlikely that any principle of Universal Grammar refers specifically to parasitic gap constructions their syntactic and interpretive properties must instead follow entirely from independent principles My own interest in the phenomenon was sparked a few years ago when in a novel I came across a sentence like the following Chait un armateur dont le prestige _ reposait largement sur la fortune _ he was a shipbuilder of whom the prestige was largely based on the wealth As the indices indicate the interpretation of the French sentence is unambiguous both the prestige and the wealth necessarily pertain to the same individual In this aspect the sentence much resembles the English parasitic gap construction above in the former case too the complements of correct and file must corefer with the noun phrase heading the relative the reports Yet there is an important difference between the two constructions Verbs like correct and file subcategorize their complements
