Competition Policy and Development in Asia Douglas Brooks, Simon Evenett, 2005-01-01 This book looks at the experiences of six Asian countries in developing and implementing domestic competition policy It analyzes how the choice of development policies impacts on the state of competition in each country and how competition contributes to development The considerable variation in policies and experiences across the countries provides a rich source of information from which lessons and best practices can be drawn Competition Policy and Development in Asia D. Brooks, S. Evenett, 2005-08-31

This book looks at the experiences of six Asian countries in terms of developing and implementing domestic competition policy It analyzes how the choice of development policies impacts on the state of competition in each country and how competition contributes to development The considerable variation in policies and experiences across the countries provides a rich source of information from which lessons and best practices can be drawn Business, Markets and Government in the Asia-Pacific Yun-Peng Chu, Rong-I Wu, 2002-09-11 The 23rd book in a long established series of conference volumes which brings together top academics in the field Up to date study being based on the 1996 Pacific Trade and Development conference Comparison between Asia Pacific economic growth and that of the West is of primary contemporary concern

Competition Policy in East Asia Erlinda Medalla, 2004-08-02 Competition Policy in East Asia clarifies the key issues and provides a framework for understanding competition policy looking in depth at a number of regulated sectors for additional perspectives Until two or three decades ago competition and consumer protection policies were the preserve of the major developed economies like the United States the United Kingdom and some European countries Now competition issues are at the top of the international agenda as globalization spreads and as the operations of the World Trade Organization the World Bank the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation forum and other organizations have brought about a realization that regulatory reform and in many economies the creation for the first time of regulatory instruments for competition and consumer protection is an imperative Agricultural Development in Asia and Africa Jonna P. Estudillo, Yoko Kijima, Tetsushi

Sonobe, 2022-12-01 This Open Access book explores the multifaceted nature of agricultural and rural development in Asia and examines the extent to which the Asian experience is being replicated in contemporary Africa This volume compiles the works of top scholars who provided analyses and evidences from household level surveys collected for many years in several parts of Asia and Africa The most important finding presented in this book is that African agricultural development has evolved following the pathways of Asian agricultural development The common pathways are borrowed technology from abroad and adaptive research in rice farming secured property rights on natural resources adoption of ICTs investments in human capital including training and launching of the high value agriculture In both continents agricultural development started in the crop sector which had a strong tendency to induce the dynamic development of other sectors in rural areas

The Interface of Competition Law, Industrial Policy and Development Concerns Balthasar Strunz, 2018-07-28 This book analyses essential concepts of competition law and industrial policy and shows where the two areas clash with and complement each other respectively The discussion takes place in the context of developing countries taking into consideration their realities and specific needs South Africa serves as a real world example for competition law that goes beyond the notion of consumer welfare An in depth analysis of the enforcement of South African law illustrates how the law is used both to combat the negative effects of past industrial policy and to accommodate current economic and social needs The book is intended for all readers with an interest in the enforcement of competition law in developing countries It will particularly benefit those who want to learn about unorthodox approaches that integrate the concept of public interest and social imperatives into the application of competition law

Competition Law, Regulation and SMEs in the Asia-Pacific
Michael T Schaper, 2017-03-09 Small and medium sized enterprises SMEs account for more than 90 per cent of all businesses in the Asia Pacific region an area which is rapidly updating its competition laws and regulations to encourage greater entrepreneurship and open dynamic economies Yet SMEs are almost invisible when those competition policies and laws are developed and enforced SMEs are often quite different businesses than large multinational corporations but their nature significance and characteristics are often overlooked This book seeks to rectify the relative neglect in research and policy discussions on the role of the SME sector in competition policy and law Drawing on contributions from a wide range of competition regulators lawyers academics consultants and advisers to the SME sector it addresses such important issues as perceptions and views of small businesses about competition law regulator engagement and education of the SME sector the link between competition law and economic growth franchising SMEs and competition law issues in enforcing competition law against SMEs the role of Chinese family firms trade professional and industry associations country case studies from Vietnam Singapore Indonesia Malaysia China South Korea Hong Kong SAR Japan and the Pacific Islands

The Political Economy of Competition Law in Asia Mark Williams, 2013-01-01 This is a very timely book which provides an unprecedented analysis of the factors which have shaped the competition law systems of ten Asian countries and Australia The comprehensive discussion from varying viewpoints against the backdrop of the significantly different environments within which the respective regimes have developed creates a framework for the comparative assessment of competition law systems elsewhere in the world Lutz Christian Wolff The Chinese University of Hong Kong New competition laws have been adopted throughout Asia in recent years and some of the older laws have been significantly strengthened This makes Asia a fascinating region in which to look at the political and economic circumstances of the countries in which such laws are to be found and to consider the very different conditions that exist within them This book will be an invaluable guide to anyone with an interest in the developing competition law regimes of this immensely important part of the world Richard Whish King's College London UK This detailed book describes and analyses the essential political economy features that provide the backdrop to the competition policies and competition law regimes of several of the most important Asian economies The book also discusses the impact of these political economy influences in determining whether the adopted competition policy is effective. Each of the authors, experts in their respective countries, offer specific insights into the nature and structure of their competition regimes and discuss to what extent the varied political economy factors unique to that country help to determine whether and to what extent the established system promotes or hinders economic competition in that jurisdiction. Comprising wide coverage of Asian jurisdictions including Australia, this book will strongly appeal to students and academics of law, politics, economics, and economic development, policy makers in national governments, international agencies, and competition authorities, as well as practicing competition lawyers and in-house counsel.

Asian Capitalism and the Regulation of Competition Michael W. Dowdle, John Gillespie, Imelda Maher, 2013-04-18. This book explores the implications of Asian forms of capitalism for the emerging global competition law regime.

Competition Policy in the ASEAN Countries G. Sivalingam, 2005. This book is important from the public policy and foreign investment points of view and should be read by all who need to understand the competitive policies in the ASEAN Countries. As the author has rightly pointed out, the narrow capitalistic model to maximize profits even at the expense of income distribution has been modified in ASEAN countries to take into account the need for equity and distributive justice. The socio-economic strategy has been essential to promote political stability without which there cannot be economic growth and development. The book argues impressively that competition policy cannot be unfettered but has to be efficiently and compassionately managed to ensure balanced business and steady socioeconomic development. Competitive policies have to follow the best interests of developing economies and not just the pressures and preferences of the capitalistic competitive policies of the highly developed industrial countries that often ignore the different priorities of developing countries.

Competition Policy and Global Competitiveness in Major Asian Economies Van Hoa Tran, 2003. This text reveals how competition policy and competitiveness are crucial to contemporary economic, financial, and trade management, as well as national and international governance, and focuses on contemporary major Asian economies facing increasing globalization and the prevailing influence of the WTO.

Competition Policy in Asia: Essays on Recent Development Asia-Pacific Development Journal United Nations, United Nations Publications, 2005-03-11. The primary emphasis of the Asia Pacific Development Journal is the publishing of policy-oriented articles that can engage the attention of policy makers, academicians, and researchers. The articles analyze development issues and problems relevant to the Asia Pacific region. This issue discusses the following topics: bond markets in the Pacific rim, developing debt markets in Singapore, developing bond markets to diversify long-term development finance, SME subcontracting as a bridgehead to competitiveness, human resource competitiveness, and inflow of foreign direct investment to the ASEAN region. The Journal is issued twice a year.

Zongle Huang, Jiyuan Chen, 2004-01-01 In the march of economic globalization it has become increasingly apparent that divergence in competition policy from one country to another is a major stumbling block More than any other factor an international consensus of competition laws is sure to facilitate the clear working interaction among trade investment intellectual property rights and technology transfer that economic progress demands This forward looking book offers presents insightful perspectives on how this consensus may be achieved The Future Development of Competition Framework presents papers and speeches by well known competition law practitioners versed in competition law and policy including representatives of national competition authorities They came from a variety of countries including France Germany Canada Mexico Indonesia Malaysia Russia Japan Australia Taiwan Korea and the United States to attend a 2003 conference sponsored by the Taiwan Fair Trade Commission The book reproduces texts of the various contributions to the conference including a roundtable discussion Among the topics addressed are the following mergers and acquisitions political interests enforcement policies and sanctions national cultures and traditions international cartels regional cooperation concentration indexes and dominance indexes patent pools financial deregulation confidentiality measures technical assistance striking the right balance between competition and regulation reconciling competition policy and development policies Although they are especially valuable for their concentration on the Asia Pacific countries these discussions will be of incalculable value to practitioners and academics everywhere who are involved in any of the interconnected branches of economic law or policy covered here Chinese-Japanese Competition and the East Asian Security Complex Jeffrey Reeves, Jeffrey Hornung, Kerry Lynn Nankivell, 2017-07-14 This volume examines contemporary diplomatic economic and security competition between China and Japan in the Asia Pacific region The book outlines the role that Sino Japanese competition plays in East Asian security an area of study largely overlooked in contemporary writing on Asian security which tends to focus on US China relations and or US hegemony in Asia The volume focuses on Chinese and Japanese foreign policy under President Xi Jinping and Prime Minister Shinz Abe and regional security dynamics within and between Asian states institutions since 2012 It employs regional security complex theory as a theoretical framework to view Chinese and Japanese competition in the Asian region In doing so the volume draws on a levels of analysis approach to demonstrate the value in looking at security in the Asia Pacific from a regional rather than global perspective The vast majority of existing research on the region s security tends to focus on great power relations and treats Asia as a sub region within the larger global security architecture In contrast this volume shows how competition between the two largest Asian economies shapes East Asia s security environment and drives security priorities across Asia s sub regions As such this collection provides an important contribution to discussion on security in Asia one with potential to influence both political and military policy makers security practitioners and scholars This book will be of much interest to students of Asian politics regional security diplomacy and international relations Competition Policy in ASEAN Johannah Branson, 2008 Development and Policy Research
