The Cambridge Companion to Life and Death Steven Luper, 2014-02-13 This volume discusses the philosophical issues connected with the nature and significance of life and death and the ethics of killing It will be of interest to all those taking courses on the philosophy of life and death applied ethics covering abortion euthanasia and suicide and ethics and metaphysics

Preference and Information Dan Egonsson, 2007 Standard preferentialist theories allege that a person's preferences and their satisfaction are the correct measure of well being In this book Egonsson presents a critical analysis of the full information account of the good which claims that only the satisfaction of rational and fully informed preferences has value for a person

Our Biosocial Brains Michele K. Lewis, 2020-07-07 In Our Biosocial Brains Michele Lewis underscores culture brain behavior and social problems to advocate for a more inclusive cultural neuroscience Traditional neuroscientists to date have not prioritized studying the impact of power bias and injustice on neural processing and the brain's perception of marginalized humans Lewis explains current events historical events and scientific studies in Our Biosocial Brains Readers will be drawn to the relevancy of brain science to examples of injustices and social bias Lewis also argues that incorporating non western African Centered Psychology is vital to diversifying research questions and diversifying interpretations of existing brain science because African Centered Psychology is not rooted in racist classist and exclusionary hegemonic methods Lewis argues for attention to marginalized populations regarding the impact of violence disrespect othering slurs environmental injustice health and general disregard on humans brains and behavior Using hundreds of peer reviewed studies and original research the author presents scientific studies that are integrated with sociocultural explanations to foster wider understanding of how our sociocultural world shapes our brains and how our brains responses influence how humans perceive and treat one another

Shared Margins Samuli Schielke, Mukhtar Saad Shehata, 2021-07-05 Shared Margins tells of writers writing and literary milieus in Alexandria Egypt's second city It de centres cosmopolitan avant gardes and secular revolutionary aesthetics that have been intensively documented and studied since 2011 Instead it offers a fieldwork based account of various milieus and styles and their common grounds and lines of division Structured in two parts Shared Margins gives an account of literature as a social practice embedded in milieus that at once enable and limit literary imagination and of a life worldly experience of plurality in absence of pluralism that marks literary engagements with the intimate and social realities of Alexandria after 2011 Literary writing this book argues has marginality as an at once enabling and limiting condition It provides shared spaces of imaginary excess that may go beyond the taken for granted of a societal milieu and yet are never unlimited Literary imagination is part and parcel of such social conflicts and transformations its role being neither one of resistance against power nor of guidance towards norms but rather one of open ended complicity

Publication , 1994

The Greening of Everyday Life John M. Meyer, Jens Kersten, 2016-09-05 The Greening of Everyday Life develops a distinctive new way of talking about environmental concerns in post industrial society It brings together several conceptual frameworks with a diversity of case studies and practical examples of efforts to orient everyday material practices toward greater sustainability The volume builds upon internal criticisms of dominant strands of contemporary environmentalism in post industrial societies and develops a new approach which emerges from a number of disciplines but is unified by a normative concern for the material objects and practices familiar to members of societies in their everyday lives In exploring alternatives the chapter authors utilize conceptual frameworks rooted in environmental justice new materialism and social practice theory and apply it to the everyday attention to urban biodiversity infrastructure for storm water run off green home remodelling household toxicity community gardens and farmers markets bicycling and automobility alternative technologies and more With contributions from leading international and emerging scholars this volume critically explores specific strategies and actions taken to generate homes communities and livelihoods that might be scaled up to promote more sustainable societies
