Conscience And Prayer:

Conscience and Prayer Dennis Joseph Billy, James Keating, 2001 Conscience and Prayer takes the new conversation between Christian spirituality and moral theology to a deeper level of precision and focus The authors argue that the relationship between moral theology and spirituality can best be explored by looking at how conscience is related to prayer In exploring this relationship both historically and theologically Billy and Keating open new ways to approach the fundamental aspects of Catholic moral theology BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Conscience and Prayer Dennis J. Catholic Prayers ,1892 Daily Praise and Prayer Rush Rhees Shippen, 1876 Conscience in the Parochial and Plain Sermons of John Henry Newman Fabio Attard, 2008 A theme rightly associated with the personality of John Henry Newman is that of conscience To the general reader Newman s life story comes across as a witness of someone who followed the light of his conscience wherever it lead him Yet for those who decide to enter into a more familiar knowledge of the man it will soon become clear that the meaning of conscience in his life goes much deeper than was originally thought The main aim of this book is to discover what Newman understands by the term conscience in a particular period of his life that which stretches from 1816 to 1843 his Anglican period Within this particular period we find two sources that are intimately linked with one another They are his sermons the Parochial and Plain Sermons and the varied biographical events as they come across to us through his Letters and Diaries This book aims to find in these two sources the answers to the question How is Newman's own understanding of conscience within the Parochial and Plain Sermons related to his personal life story. This question is dealt with from the standpoint of the biographical events and that of the written word. For this reason, this volume is divided into two parts. The first examines the whole domain of the events aiming to highlight the importance they hold for the theme of conscience. The second is directly concerned with Newman's writing on conscience within the Parochial and Plain Sermons.

Dietrich Bonhoeffer and the Ethical Self
Clark J. Elliston, 2016-10-01
Dietrich Bonhoeffer's work has persistently challenged Christian consciousness due to both his death at the hands of the Nazis and his provocative prison musings about Christian faithfulness in late modernity. Although understandable given the popularity of both narrative trajectories, such selective focus obscures the depth and fecundity of his overall corpus. Bonhoeffer's early work and particularly his Christocentric anthropology grounds his later expressed commitments to responsibility and faithfulness in a world come of age. While much debate accompanies claims regarding the continuity of Bonhoeffer's thought, there are central motifs which pervade his work from his doctoral dissertation to the prison writings. This book suggests that a concern for otherness permeates all of Bonhoeffer's work. Furthermore, Clark Elliston articulates drawing on Bonhoeffer a Christian self defined by its orientation towards otherness. Taking Bonhoeffer as both the origin and point of return, the text engages Emmanuel Levinas and Simone Weil as dialogue partners who likewise stress the role of the other for self-understanding, albeit in diverse ways. By reading Bonhoeffer through their voices, one enhances Bonhoeffer's already fertile understanding of responsibility.
