Late Migrations Margaret Renkl, 2019-07-09 From the New York Times columnist a portrait of a family and the cycles of joy and grief that mark the natural world Has the makings of an American classic Ann Patchett Growing up in Alabama Margaret Renkl was a devoted reader an explorer of riverbeds and red dirt roads and a fiercely loved daughter Here in brief essays she traces a tender and honest portrait of her complicated parents her exuberant creative mother her steady supportive father and of the bittersweet moments that accompany a child s transition to caregiver And here braided into the overall narrative Renkl offers observations on the world surrounding her suburban Nashville home Ringing with rapture and heartache these essays convey the dignity of bluebirds and rat snakes monarch butterflies and native bees As these two threads haunt and harmonize with each other Renkl suggests that there is astonishment to be found in common things in what seems ordinary in what we all share For in both worlds the natural one and our own the shadow side of love is always loss and grief is only love s own twin Gorgeously
