Moynihan,2002 Researchers have devoted considerable attention to how people learn to read specifically how they recognise pronounce and understand printed words These studies are helping to illuminate not only the normal process of learning to read but also the problems that may underlie dyslexia a condition in which people are unable to acquire a high degree of reading skill despite adequate intelligence and training When reading instruction begins children as well as adult learners already possess large spoken word vocabularies Their initial task is to learn how these spoken words correspond to written alphabetic symbols

Impairments in this reading skill are often seen among children who have problems learning in school Dyslexia is a brain based type of learning disability that specifically impairs a person s ability to read These individuals typically read at levels significantly lower than expected despite having normal intelligence Although the disorder varies from person to person common characteristics among people with dyslexia are difficulty with phonological processing the manipulation of sounds and or rapid visual verbal responding

Impulsivity and Compulsivity Related to Substance Use Disorders Francisca Lopez-Torrecillas, Jose Luis Graña, Carlos Herruzo, Francesca Cavallini, 2025-04-30 Impulsivity and compulsivity are natural behaviors controlled by brain mechanisms that are essential for survival in all species Understanding these brain mechanisms can lead to targeted treatment strategies for these symptom domains when impulsivity and compulsivity become dysfunctional Pathological impulsivity and compulsivity characterize a broad range of mental disorders and are among their core and most debilitating symptoms placing an enormous personal social and economic burden on society The American Psychiatric Association APA 2013 defines impulsivity as a predisposition toward rapid unplanned reactions to either internal or external stimuli without regard for negative consequences compulsivity is in turn defined as the performance of repetitive behaviors with the goal of reducing or preventing anxiety or distress and not providing pleasure or gratification Although impulsivity and compulsivity interfere with different aspects of response control they are most probably mediated by related yet distinct neural circuitries linked to motivational and decisional processes involving the basal ganglia their limbic cortical inputs and top down control from cortical prefrontal circuitry Increased frontal lobe activity may characterize compulsive disorders such as obsessive compulsive disorder OCD In contrast decreased frontal lobe activity may characterize impulsive disorders such as Substance Abuse and Antisocial Personality Disorder SAD and APD

Important Role of the Early School Years for Reading, Writing and Math Development: Assessment and Intervention at School Entry

Christoph Weber, Martin Schöfl, Susanne Seifert, Natalie Förster, 2025-12-01 School entry is a critical life event for young children. Students begin this new phase of their lives with very different abilities due to their individual characteristics, previous experiences and education. While some children hardly know any letters or numbers, others can already read, write and calculate quite fluently. To optimally support young learners according to their respective starting conditions, teachers must recognize students' learning prerequisites and adapt instruction to students' needs. To this end, both valid and economical assessments as well as effective and differentiated interventions are needed. This Research Topic addresses new developments in early assessments and assessment-based interventions around the time of school entry from the last year before enrollment until second grade. In particular, this Research Topic aims to bring together research that directly contributes to assessing children's difficulties and providing evidence-based support. We highly welcome new innovative approaches from the fields of education, didactics and psychology that focus on the assessment and assessment-based instruction in reading, writing and maths. Any empirical studies that help to improve the assessment and assessment-based interventions for the competencies mentioned are welcome. We are looking for empirical quantitative or qualitative studies dealing with the target group of children around the age of school entry, last year of kindergarten to second grade elementary school, that include at least one of the following topics: the presentation or testing of new assessment procedures that focus on performance in and prerequisites for reading, writing and maths; assessment-based interventions, both whole class or individual approaches in reading, writing and maths; the co-development of sub skills in reading, writing and maths and consequences for assessment and intervention. Please note that manuscripts without prior submission of an abstract will not be considered for the research topic.

Kids Cybersecurity Using Computational Intelligence Techniques

Wael M. S. Yafooz, Hussain Al-Aqrabi, Arafat Al-Dhaqm, Abdelhamid Emara, 2023-02-20 This book introduces and presents the newest up to date methods, approaches and technologies on how to detect child cyberbullying on social media as well as monitor kids. E-learning monitor games designed and social media activities for kids. On a daily basis, children are exposed to harmful content online. There have been many attempts to resolve this issue by conducting methods based on rating and ranking as well as reviewing comments to show the relevancy of these videos to children. Unfortunately, there still remains a lack of supervision on videos dedicated to kids. This book also introduces a new algorithm for content analysis against harmful information for kids. Furthermore, it establishes the goal to track useful information of kids and institutes detection of kids' textual aggression through methods of machine and deep learning and natural language processing for a safer space for children on social media and online and to combat problems such as lack of supervision, cyberbullying, kids' exposure to harmful content. This book is beneficial to postgraduate students and researchers concerned with recent methods and approaches to kids' cybersecurity.
