A Biographer's Notebook Hector Bolitho, 1950 Thinking Tools for Young Readers and Writers Carol Booth Olson, Angie Balius, Emily McCourtney, Mary Widtmann, 2018 In her new book bestselling author and professional developer Carol Booth Olson and colleagues show teachers how to help young readers and writers construct meaning from and with texts This practical resource offers a rich array of research based teaching strategies activities and extended lessons focused on the thinking tools employed by experienced readers and writers It shows teachers how to draw on the natural connections between reading and writing and how cognitive strategies can be embedded into the teaching of narrative informational and argumentative texts Including artifacts and written work produced by students across the grade levels the authors connect the cognitive and affective domains for full student engagement This book seamlessly bridges the gap from research to everyday practice You get an extremely well organized set of overarching instructional principles that are right for our era and brought to life through well explained instructional guides and classroom activities From the Foreword by Judith Langer University at Albany SUNY I have always admired Carol Booth Olson s work with secondary students and teachers She now applies those essential principles and practices to elementary and middle school students Bravo P David Pearson professor emeritus University of California Berkeley

Scaffolding Young Writers Linda J. Dorn, Carla Soffos, 2001 The goal of teaching writing is to create independent and self motivated writers When students write more often they become better at writing They acquire habits skills and strategies that enable them to learn more about the craft of writing Yet they require the guidance and support of a more knowledgeable person who understands the writing process the changes over time in writing development and specific techniques and procedures for teaching writing In Scaffolding Young Writers A Writers Workshop Approach Linda J Dorn and Carla Soffos present a clear road map for implementing writers workshop in the primary grades Adopting an apprenticeship approach the authors show how explicit teaching good models clear demonstrations established routines assisted teaching followed by independent practice and self regulated learning are all fundamental in establishing a successful writers workshop There is a detailed chapter on organizing for writers workshop including materials components routines and procedures Other chapters provide explicit guidelines for designing productive mini lessons and student conferences Scaffolding Young Writers also features An overview of how children become writers Analyses of students samples according to informal and formal writing assessments Writing checklists benchmark behaviors and rubrics based on national standards Examples of teaching interactions during mini lessons and writing conferences Illustrations of completed forms and checklists with detailed descriptions and blank reproducible forms in the appendix for classroom use Instruction is linked with assessment throughout the book so that all teaching interactions are grounded in what children already know and what they need to know as they develop into independent writers

Writers and Their Notebooks Diana Raab, 2010 A peek inside the writerly testing grounds of Sue Grafton Kim Stafford Maureen Stanton and others This collection of essays by well established professional writers explores how their notebooks serve as their studios and workshops places to collect to play and to make new discoveries with language passions and curiosities For these diverse writers the journal also serves as an ideal forum to develop their writing voice whether crafting fiction nonfiction or poetry Some entries include sample journal entries that have since developed into published pieces Through their individual approaches to keeping a notebook the contributors offer valuable advice personal recollections and a hardy endorsement of the value of using notebooks to document develop and nurture a writer s creative spark Designed for writers of all genres and all levels of experience Writers and Their Notebooks celebrates the notebook as a vital tool in a writer s personal and literary life
