Achieving Native-like Second-language Proficiency: Speaking Betty Lou Leaver,2003 This book is the first in a planned series speaking reading listening and writing that reports on a research project to discover what the critical factors are for reaching near native levels of second language proficiency based on in depth interviews with individuals who have formally tested at those levels   Lessons from Exceptional Language Learners Who Have Achieved Nativelike Proficiency Zoltán Dörnyei,Katarina Mentzelopoulos,2022-10-25 How do some language learners triumph against all odds despite not having obvious heritage links or spending extended periods of time in the L2 environment pre adulthood This book delves into the autobiographical stories of learners who achieve nativelike proficiency opening a narrative window into their experiences and offering insights into their pathways to success The in depth analysis ties together a wide range of potentially relevant topics from motivational vision and international posture to issues of identity endurance and even musical ability among other themes The authors explore whether these successes can be repeated by others and the book will be of use to language teachers interested in learner motivation and the antecedents to high level ultimate attainment The book will also be of great interest to researchers working in the areas of language learner psychology especially in topics concerning language learning motivation identity and narrative inquiry   The Handbook of Second Language Acquisition Catherine J. Beebe,1988   The Development of Speech Perception Judith Claire Goodman,Howard C. Nusbaum,1994 This comprehensive collection of current research in the development of speech perception and perceptual learning documents the striking changes that take place both in early childhood and throughout life and speculates about the mechanisms responsible for those changes The findings reported from this rich and active field address the role of growing linguistic knowledge and experience and demonstrate that speech perception develops in a bidirectional interplay with several levels of linguistic structure and cognitive processes Examining transitions in the perceptual processing of speech from infancy to adulthood as well as what causes these transitions the contributors take up a broad range of issues that are central to constructing a theory of speech perception and to understanding the development of this ability These include the nature of infants early sensory proficiencies how these skills come to support the recognition of linguistic units developmental differences in the representation and processing of linguistic units the acquisition of early word patterns and a phonological system and the mechanisms behind perceptual learning The Development of Speech Perception is unique in attempting to integrate research involving infants young children and adults and in its thorough treatment of developmental issues in speech perception It systematically explores how adult perceptual abilities begin to develop from early infant capabilities and in doing so addresses several levels of linguistic processing Interlanguage ZhaoHong Han,Elaine Tarone,2014-04-15 Few works in the field of second language acquisition SLA can endure multiple reads but Selinker s 1972 Interlanguage is a clear exception Written at the inception of the field this paper delineates a disciplinary scope asks penetrating questions advances daring hypotheses and proposes a first ever conceptual and empirical framework that continues to stimulate SLA research Sparked by a heightened interest in this founding text on its 40th anniversary 10 leaders in their respective fields of SLA research collectively examine extrapolations of the seminal text for the past the present and the future of SLA research This book offers a rare resource for novices and experts alike in and beyond the field of SLA High-Level Language Proficiency in Second Language and Multilingual Contexts Kenneth Hyltenstam,Inge Bartning,Lars Fant,2018-06-21 An encompassing picture of what high level competence in second languages and in multilingual use is about The Journal of the Institute of Bangladesh Studies Rajshahi University.
