Teaching Classics Worldwide Steven Hunt, John Bulwer, 2025-02-06 An international survey of Classics teaching in schools across the world written by experts in their field showcasing contemporary classroom practices in teaching ancient languages literature and culture      The Core Leigh A. Bortins, 2010-06-08 In the past correct spelling the multiplication tables the names of the state capitals and the American presidents were basics that all children were taught in school Today many children graduate without this essential knowledge Most curricula today follow a haphazard sampling of topics with a focus on political correctness instead of teaching students how to study Leigh Bortins a leading figure in the homeschooling community is having none of it She believes that there are core areas of knowledge that are essential to master Without knowing the multiplication tables children can't advance to algebra Without mastery of grammar students will have difficulty expressing themselves Without these essential building blocks of knowledge students may remember information but they will never possess a broad and deep understanding of how the world works In The Core Bortins gives parents the tools and methodology to implement a rigorous thorough and broad curriculum based on the classical model including Rote memorization to cement knowledge Systematic learning of geography historical facts and timelines Reading the great books and seminal historical documents instead of adaptations and abridged editions Rigorous training in math and the natural sciences      Natural Science and the Classical System in Education Sir Edwin Ray Lankester, 1918      The Classical Weekly

Despite their removal from England s National Curriculum in 1988 and claims of elitism Latin and Greek are increasingly re entering the mainstream educational arena Since 2012 there have been more students in state maintained schools in England studying classical subjects than in independent schools and the number of schools offering Classics continues to rise in the state maintained sector The teaching and learning of Latin and Greek is not however confined to the classroom community based learning for adults and children is facilitated in newly established regional Classics hubs in evenings and at weekends in universities as part of outreach and even in parks and in prisons This book investigates the motivations of teachers and learners behind the rise of Classics in the classroom and in communities and explores ways in which knowledge of classical languages is considered valuable for diverse learners in the 21st century The role of classical languages within the English educational policy landscape is examined as new possibilities exist for introducing Latin and Greek into school curricula The state of Classics education internationally is also investigated with case studies presenting the status quo in policy and practice from Australasia North America the rest of Europe and worldwide The priorities for the future of Classics education in these diverse locations are compared and contrasted by the editors who conjecture what strategies are conducive to success A Defence of Classical Education Richard Winn Livingstone,1917 The Educational Times, and Journal of the College of Preceptors ,1892 The School World ,1917 Education in Russia Thomas Darlington,1909 Educational Times and Journal of the College of Preceptors ,1912
