Coming To This Poems:

Coming to this Joanne Lowery, 1990 Songs for Coming Home David Whyte, 1989 This is David Whyte's first book of poetry Now in its fourth printing Coming to Rest Kathryn Stripling Byer, 2006-04-01 Kathryn Stripling Byer in these poems engages the contradictions inherent in the act of coming home She explores the step by step leaving and returning and finding home transformed because of the journey Seamless lines of poetry weave together experiences as a daughter and a mother the challenges of aging the innate dignity of domestic life and learning to let go while holding fast to what matters all the while Byer gathers the trivial things that make up our lives and shows their meaningful connections our movement toward discovery In Coming to Rest she expands upon the great themes of the poetic tradition Concordance to the Works of Alfred Tennyson Poet Laureate Alfred Tennyson Baron Tennyson, 1870 The Coming Terror and Other Essays and Letters Robert Williams Buchanan, 1891 Poems William Wetmore Story, 1888 Coming to My Senses James P. Kain, 2008-10-08 Book Description Coming to My Senses is a collection of old and new poems written over many years in many places So it is a kind of anthology of my works to date In putting it together I looked for common elements in order to group the poems and found five directions that the poems take Seeking Passage is about moving through changes in life looking forward or backward and recognizing the need for change Of Love and Loss is self explanatory poems responding to the heartache of love and memories gone Diversions if this is not the stuff of poetry I don't know what is Poetry for me then is a search and a celebration a revelation not an explanation or a comment on the world but rather a discovery of the inner life of thought and consciousness a coming to my senses and a reawakening of something with reverence The poetic moment is a moment that begins and ends in the mind's silence and within that silence is a wide world of timeless utterances subtle responses and the feeding roots of new ideas The poetic moment is what ties philosophy to the real world what demands religion from the questing soul and what unveils the deeper values in an otherwise common and habitual world These poems are records of some of these moments They are meditations and reflections more than they are compositions The form each poem takes arises from the moment that still point of the turning world from the attempt to dissolve the outer consciousness and reach a pure state of cognition the origin of the question What is it in this life that seeks for something more There is something wistful in each attempt to find an answer and though the answer is in the end a mystery we must not forget that moment of illumination in which we first discovered that mystery gives birth to imagination who like a child gleams at every new thing Coming & Going James J. McAuley, 1989-01-01 Exile with its sense of suspended or impending motion of change loss acceptance gives James J. McAuley's poems their need to be their means of surviving the exigencies of the displaced spirit Ancestors on both sides of his family were bards in Celtic Ireland Although a naturalized United States citizen McAuley has maintained his connections with his native land the Irish Times listed him among one hundred significant Irish writers Although the poet writes of the familial and the domestic he is writing at the same time of journeys out and back of losses and recoveries McAuley is as much at ease with the solemnity of elegy as with the invective of political satire or the sensual metaphysics of the love poem
